Borough School Board Raises Millage And Head Tax To Meet $309,501 Budget In Next Year

The Gettysburg School board Friday evening adopted for the first time in its history a budget in excess of $300,000 and set the tax rate at 36 mills on real estate and $10 per person.

By law, the actions are tentative, the budget must be available for public inspection for 30 days before it can be finally adopted, but there was no indication that there will be any revision—unless it be upward—when final passage occurs a month from now.

To meet its obligations to the Gettysburg Joint School district, and carry on its own activities during the coming year, Gettysburg will need to spend an estimated $309,501 during the school year 1957-58, according to the budget outlined at the postponed board meeting in the office of Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle in the high school building.

Budget Up $35,000

That amount is $35,001 higher than the $274,500 budget adopted last June for the 1956-57 school year.

To meet the increased cost the property tax was raised from 33 to 36 mills, and the "head tax" was upped from $7.50 to $10. The board levied a $5 per capita tax, just as it had a year ago, and increased its "residence tax" from $2.50 to $5.

Last year, when the school board adopted its budget it foresaw an $11,000 balance at the end of the year. Now it is "hoping" there may be about a $5,000 balance at the end of the current school year, but the board was not optimistic about that amount, and did not include it in its estimate of income for the coming year.

Take Half Of Reserve

Included as a balance in the budget for 1957-58 is $10,000, representing one half of $20,000 certificate of deposit the Gettysburg board has found it good business to hoard. That $20,000 in the past has come in handy for such things as paying teachers when state funds are slow on arrival and, as Ray J. Kitzmiller, president of the board, put it Friday night, "it's only good business to have a reserve."

The budget tentatively adopted Friday contemplates a balance of $2,997 as of July 1, 1958. But it also contemplates an increase in the amount that the Gettysburg board will receive from the state—an increase that has not as yet been passed by the state legislature. If last year's state reimbursements continue in effect the district will receive $101,513 from the state. In its budget the board estimated that it will receive $107,101 from the state. If the guess is incorrect the other half of that $20,000 certificate of deposit will go into the coming year's operation.

Expect New Taxes

With the coming year's budget calling for payment of only one half of the $30,000 annual rental for the new elementary school to be constructed during the coming year, it was evident that the 1958-59 budget will of necessity be $15,000 higher than the 1957-58 budget. Mandated teacher salary increases will also

COUNTY COUPLE WED TODAY IN LOCAL CHURCH

Miss A. Lorraine Felix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Felix, Gettysburg R. 3, was married at 11:30 o'clock this morning to William B. Brosius, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Brosius, Lancaster. The Rev. Paul L. Reaser, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, performed the double-ring ceremony at the church at 11:30 a.m.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a white floor-length gown fashioned of Chantilly lace and tulle. The fitted bodice of lace featured a Queen Anne collar and long sleeves, ending in points over the hands. The bouffant skirt made of the same lace was accented with deep ruffles of tulle at the hemline. Her fingertip veil was arranged on a crown of lace which was trimmed sequins. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, hyacinths and snapdragons.

Bonneauville Boy Injured By Auto

Gerald J. Pfaff, Jr., six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Pfaff, Gettysburg R. 5, was injured Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock when he was struck by a car in Bonneauville.

State police said Earl M. Lehigh, 37, Hanover R. 4, was driving through Bonneauville, going east, when the child attempted to cross from the north to the south side of the Hanover-Gettysburg Rd. and darted into the path of the car.

Brought to the Warner Hospital by a passing motorist, the child was found to have brushburns of the hand, lacerations of the scalp and bruises of the legs.

The accident was one of two investigated by state police Friday night. At 9:40 o'clock on Third St. in Midway, police said Eugene M. Klinders, 20, Hanover, was attempting to pass another car which was seeking to make a right turn. The other vehicle, Klinders told the officers, after starting to turn came back onto the street, and Klinders said as he sought to avoid that vehicle his car smashed into a parked car owned by Erno Schulz, 36, Third St., Hanover. Damage was estimated at $100. No one was injured.

COUPLE IS WED IN BIGLERVILLE CHURCH TODAY

Miss Betty Lou Clapper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clapper, Aspers R. 1, and George Schriver Deatrick, son of Mrs. Martha Schriver Bell, Gettysburg R. 4, will be married this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Biglerville EUB Church. The Rev. Laverne E. Rohrbaugh will officiate at the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear a white waltz-length gown of Chantilly-type lace and tulle fashioned with a fitted bodice. The scoop neckline ends in a standup collar and the long sleeves taper at the wrists. She will carry a white Bible topped with an orchid. The bride also will wear a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Madeline Rhodes, Washington, D. C., who will be the maid of honor, will wear a lime green ballerina-length gown. She will carry an arm bouquet of roses.

Reception Is Held

The bridesmaids will be Mrs. Wilson Wenk, Aspers R. 1, and Mrs. Shirley Rohrbaugh, Biglerville R. 1, will be the best man. The ushers will be Glen Bentzel, New Oxford R. 2, and Howard Clapper, Littlestown R. 1.

Mrs. Clapper, mother of the bride, will wear a navy blue suit and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Bell, the groom's brother, will wear a navy blue dress and a corsage of pink roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the social room of the Biglerville EUB Church.

When they return from a wedding trip the couple will reside at Gettysburg R. 4, the Harrisburg Rd. The bride, a graduate of Biglerville High School, is employed by the Continental Ceramic Corporation. The groom, who attended Gettysburg High School, is employed by the State Highway Department. Mr. Deatrick serves in the National Guard.

James N. Keller And Doris Jane Henderson Accused Of Robbing Arendtsville Bank

The Federal Bureau of Investigation today announced they have charged James Nevin Keller and Doris Jane Henderson with robbery of the Arendtsville National Bank.

Carl E. Hennrich, special agent in the Philadelphia office of the FBI, announced this morning that "complaints authorized by the U. S. Attorney Robert J. Hourigan, of the Middle District of Pennsylvania, were filed by an FBI agent today before U. S. Commissioner Edwin D. Strite Jr., Chambersburg, charging James Nevin Keller and Doris Jane Henderson with violation of Article 18 of the U. S. Code, Section 2113 in that on November 7, 1956, they entered and feloniously robbed the National Bank of Arendtsville of $25,782 in U. S. Currency."

Held In Tucson

A warrant for their arrest on that charge was issued by Commissioner Strite and will be certified to the Pima County jail, Tucson, Arizona, where the two are being held on a charge placed by the FBI Thursday, alleging that they stole a Buick sedan from the Warren Chevrolet Sales, Lincoln Highway East, and transported it to Frederick County, Va., where it was abandoned.

An FBI agent said both charges against the local couple will be heard in the Middle District Court which sits in Scranton, Williamsport, Lewisburg and Harrisburg. The court, when it receives the case, will set down the location of the trial and it could occur in any of the cities in which the court holds sessions. The FBI agent also indicated that if normal procedure is followed the two will be brought to some prison in Pennsylvania to await appearance before the Middle District court on the charges.

Escaped From Jail

Keller, an auto painter here, is wanted also for jailbreak last October 25. At that time he was in jail on a charge of fraudulent sale of a car and was being visited by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keller, Gettysburg R. 3, when he suddenly escaped out the front door.

Eleven days later a Buick Roadmaster was stolen from the Warren Chevrolet Sales. Two days later the car was seen in Arendtsville, when a masked man and woman entered the Arendtsville bank and robbed the bank of more than $25,000.

When the couple was found in Tucson Thursday they were residing at a trailer court as "Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson."

Miss Henderson was a Biglerville telephone operator and Keller is married and the father of a child. When arrested the couple had $1,690.10 in cash in their possession.

LANG-FLINN NUPTIALS READ THIS MORNING

Miss Josephine Irene Flinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Flinn, Gettysburg R. 2, was married this morning to Rudolph Lang, son of Mrs. Carolyn Lang, York. The nuptial mass was celebrated and the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. Alexis Arnoldin in St. Francis Xavier Church at 9 o'clock. A reception was held after the wedding at the Cashtown fire hall.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor-length gown of nylon tulle fashioned with a princess bodice and a bouffant skirt. The scalloped neckline of the dress was embroidered with sequins and pearls. Her fingertip veil of net illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses.

Cousins Are Attendants

Miss Ruby Flinn, Gettysburg R. 2, first cousin of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a yellow ballerina-length gown of nylon chiffon over net and taffeta. A matching shoulder-length veil was attached to her floral headdress and she carried a colonial bouquet of roses and carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Regina Shultz, first cousin of the bride, S. Washington St.; Mrs. Mildred Miller, E. Middle St., and Miss Waldrand Goebel, Mrs. Shultz wore a pink nylon chiffon ballerina-length dress fashioned with flying panels. Mrs. Miller wore an identical dress of blue and Miss Goebel, one of pink. Each attendant also wore floral headpieces with shoulder-length veils and carried colonial bouquets of roses and carnations.

The best man was Ferdinand Tauscher, Biglerville R. 2, brother-in-law of the groom.

Stolen Car Wrecked During Police Chase

Theft of a car from the Inductive Equipment parking lot Friday led to the arrest of three youths and the discovery that four youths who escaped from the Kis-Lyn school for Boys, Hazleton, had been in Gettysburg.

John P. Hertz, Gettysburg R. 2, reported to borough police at 12:20 o'clock Friday afternoon that his mother's car, owned by Henrietta Gillelan, Gettysburg R. 2, which had parked in the Inductive Equipment lot while at work, had been stolen.

In their investigation police discovered an abandoned car at the parking lot there, and checking on it through state police found that the car was owned by Mary and Roland Rorer, Herndon, Pa., and had been reported stolen by four youths, three of them 14 years old and one 17 years old, who had escaped from the school.

Later in the afternoon, state police notified local police that the car stolen from Hertz had been wrecked while being chased by Maryland state police near Hancock, Md., and three youths in the vehicle had not been apprehended. The police notice did not state whether the youths captured in Maryland were the same youths who had escaped from the Kis-Lyn school.

College Student Recital On Sunday

The public is invited to attend a student recital to be given by the Gettysburg College music department Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock in Brum Lounge on the campus. All students participating in the program are pupils of R. Henry Ackley, assistant professor of music, and Miss A. Marie Budde, private instructor in applied music. Miss Lois Kadel, college organist and chapel choir director, will serve as accompanist.

MISS M. JORDAN, WM. G. VINCK ARE WED TODAY

In a setting of pink gladioli Miss Mary Louise Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jordan, Emmitsburg, became the bride of William George Vinck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vinck, Baltimore, at a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. John Sullivan, in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

George Greco, a classmate of the bride, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "Behold These Vows." When the bride presented a bouquet to the Virgin Mary Mr. Greco sang "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling." Miss Louella Lansinger provided the organ music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length white pinwheel lace gown with a fitted bodice fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over the wrists. Her fingertip veil was attached to a bridal cap trimmed with sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white daisies.

Miss Yolanda Perez, Chevy Chase, was the maid of honor and wore a sheer pink velvety-nylon dress and underskirts of net and satin with a high scoop neckline. The gown was trimmed with chiffon panels of a contrasting color at the neck and back. She wore a headpiece of flowers and interwoven net. The maid-of-honor carried an assorted colonial bouquet of snapdragons and daisies with pink streamers.

More Than 2,000 At PTA Festival

A crowd estimated at between 2,000 and 2,500 attended the annual spring festival of the Gettysburg Parent-Teacher Association Friday evening at the Keefeauw Elementary School. Suppers were on sale in the school cafeteria and booths, games and contests were conducted from 4 p.m. until about 9:30 p.m.

There was a concert by the Junior High School band, a baton twirling exhibition, Indian dances, square dancing by Fifth and Sixth grades followed by square dancing for adults and a cakewalk. A cake baked by Miss Jane Weisel, a home economics teacher at the high school, was given to Mrs. John Conte as a door prize.

No figures were available today on how much money had been raised for school projects by the event, sponsored by the Family Recreation and the Ways and Means committees of the PTA.

SEVEN KNOUSE FOODS DRIVERS HONORED TODAY

By making courtesy their code of the road, seven drivers of Knouse Foods Cooperative, Peach Glen, have earned the safe driver award of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association Casualty Insurance Company. These men received lapel emblems, symbolic of the PMA safe driver award for driving varying periods of from one to six years without being responsible for a highway accident.

Robert H. Hunter, PMA fleet safety engineer, made the presentation of the pins to the drivers at a luncheon meeting at the Knouse plant in Peach Glen at 12:30 o'clock this noon. Other representatives of the Knouse firm who participated in the ceremonies are: Edward J. Nowicki, production manager, and Luther Smith, traffic manager.

Herbert Cluck received a silver emblem for driving six years without accident being involved in a chargeable accident, and Joseph Reaver and Albert Warner were given bronze lapel pins for perfect two-year records. Recipients of similar awards for driving one year without an accident were: Kenneth Bigham, Robert Forsyth, Samuel Halsey, and Bruce Kline.

The drivers travel approximately 110,000 miles annually, throughout the Middle Atlantic and New England states to deliver fruits processed by the Knouse plants in Peach Glen, Orlanna, Chambersburg, and Scotland, and nationally distributed under the "Lucky Leaf" brand name.

For the past two years, the drivers have been participating in a driver training program conducted jointly by PMA and the Knouse company.

RENOIR THEFT IS DENIED; OTHER LOOT IS FOUND

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A former art student, once convicted of art thefts from French and British museums, was arrested here yesterday for questioning in connection with a Renoir painting stolen two years ago from the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

Detectives on the trail of the still missing work, "Head of a Young Girl," identified the man as Walton James Lord, 40, of suburban Drexel Hill.

A raid of his home late last night failed to turn up the painting, police said. But they added the raid had turned up statues and other objects, which they said Lord admitted taking from the University of Pennsylvania museum and other places.

Denies Renoir Theft Lord told police he had undergone psychiatric treatment because of an "irresistible desire" to help himself to certain art treasures. But he denied taking the 19 by 12-inch Renoir, which was lent to the Philadelphia Museum in 1937 by M. Pierre Gagnat of Paris. Lord explained Renoir didn't appeal to him, police said.

A Philadelphia native, Lord's police record shows that he was sentenced to five months in December, 1949, on charges of stealing a painting from a museum at Nice, France, while he was in Europe as an art student. In October, 1952, he was convicted of stealing Chinese and Japanese scrolls and rare books from the Courtauld Institute in London, police said.

Lord was charged last night with larceny and receiving stolen goods in connection with the items police said were found in his home. He is employed in Philadelphia as a relief-map compiler for the Aerial Service Corp.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackeers probers said today they plan hearings next week on alleged "demands" by Teamsters Union President Dave Beck on an employer Beck had aided with loans from union funds.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the investigating Senate committee, said Roy Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co., Detroit, and later Beck himself would be quizzed on what Kennedy said were "Beck's demands on the company in the wake of the loan."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The treasury's latest effort to refinance the national debt finds the government caught in the same tight money pinch that has other segments of the economy hollering "uncle."

The treasury yesterday took a preliminary peek at the results of its offer last week to exchange more than four billion dollars in 1½ per cent notes sold in 1954 and maturing next Wednesday.

What it found wasn't unexpected, but it wasn't exactly what was hoped for, either.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two brothers and their sister were asphyxiated today as flames swept through their north Philadelphia home. The victims were Joseph Gayton, 8; Patrick, 5; and Priscilla, 4.

Their father, Joseph, 30, returning home from work at the height of the early morning blaze, was cut on the hands as he tried to smash his way into the flaming house to reach his family.

FATALLY INJURED HARRISBURG (AP)—Mrs. Gladys E. Bock, 56, of Harrisburg was fatally injured Thursday night in a fall through the railing of a second-story balcony at her home onto a concrete patio. ## "TO MY MOTHER"

The furrows on your aging brow... entwine like webs around my heart... because I know I put them there... with countless grievings I impart... each new gray hair portrays to me... another try in my behalf... to put a smile upon my face... and cause my searching heart to laugh... could I but stay the fleeting years... and give you back one yesterday... to me would come relief from tears... for you a moment to be gay... but I know well this cannot be... time moves in never-ending strides... and so I strive to put in words... the secret things that my soul hides... what, then, can such as I bestow... on you who gave me treasurers rare... when every gift, however great... with yours can scarcely half compare... take every ounce of love I own... do with it, Mother, what you will... perhaps then your remaining years... will hold a tender kind of thrill.

School Board

make the 1958-59 budget higher than the one contemplated for the coming year. Board members estimated that by 1959 the town's school tax will be up to 40 mills on property.

Other new taxes will also probably be levied in 1958 or 1959. President Kitzmiller observed Friday night that a one per cent tax on the sale of properties would have brought $11,500 into the school board treasury, had such a tax been in existence during the last year when $1,148,000 worth of properties changed owners in Gettysburg. Because the board feels that it can "squeeze through" 1957-58 without it, no such tax was levied at Friday's meeting. But it was indicated that the tax may eventually be used.

Breakdown On Income
Estimated receipts for the coming year total $312,498. Of that amount, $100,000 is a "balance" from the certificate of deposit, $151,512 is property tax, $13,670 per capita tax, $18,670 "residence" tax; $525 from prior years taxes, $107,101 from the state, $400 from interest, $420 rent and $3,200 federal aid.

Expenditures will include $224,586 to be paid to the joint system for its operation, $5,500 for general control, $500 instructional, $7,000 for auxiliary agencies, principally recreation, $5,000 for maintenance of plant, $56,880 for present rentals and $15,085 for a half year's rental on the school building to be constructed this year.

Giving Over Assessments
Robert H. Deardorff was re-elected secretary of the local board for a four-year term and The Gettysburg National Bank was elected treasurer for another year. Under school board procedure the treasurer's post is rotated between the Gettysburg National and The First National Bank of Gettysburg at four-year intervals.

The board voted to pay Mrs. Richard Polkenroth $100 for making up the tax duplicate, typing the minutes of the board and other services during the year.

Members of the board were asked to attend a meeting of school board officials and borough councilmen with the county commissioners Tuesday evening at the courthouse to study the Gettysburg assessment figures.

Waynesboro Girl Injured In Crash

Diane Wishard, 19, Waynesboro R. 2, suffered a laceration of the scalp and left elbow in an auto accident one-fourth mile west of here on the Fairfield Rd. at 4:55 o'clock Friday afternoon.

State police said Paul W. Martin, 42, Gettysburg R. 3, had stopped his car on the road preparatory to making a turn when Miss Wishard's

CELEBRATING COLLAPSE OF DICTATORSHIP

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Colombia's new military junta promised last night to bring order to the country, restore political and press freedom and step down next year in favor of a freely elected civilian government.

Bogota took on a holiday atmosphere as Colombians celebrated the collapse of Gustavo Rojas Pinilla's four-year dictatorship.

Leaders of the liberals and conservatives — the country's two traditional political parties, whose opposition bolstered the strikes and demonstrations that brought down Rojas — announced they supported interim rule by the junta. They appealed by radio last night for prudence, calmness and return to normalcy.

Report 141 Dead
Relaxation of censorship permitted a tally of those killed in the past week of unres. There were at least 141 reported dead—including 30 caught in a stampede when troops tried to clear joyous crowds from Bogota's Plaza Bolivar after Rojas resigned the presidency yesterday.

The newspaper Intermedio said police fired on another crowd celebrating Rojas' fall at Medellin, killing nine persons. An estimated 100 were killed during the week in Cali, Colombia's fourth largest city, many by police bullets. Police killed two youths in Bogota last Sunday.

Rojas, 56-year-old former Army chief who seized power in a bloodless coup in June 1953, was reported going into exile. A plane was readied last night, reportedly to take him to Miami.

To Hold Elections
Maj. Gen. Gabriel Paris, 47-year-old president of the five-man junta, listed a 14-point program he said the military regime would carry out.

The first point was a promise that the junta will remain in power only until Aug. 7, 1958, when a new presidential term is to start.

Paris said elections would be held for a successor government. The junta dissolved the constituent assembly, appointed by Rojas, which this week had suspended provisions of the constitution and declared Rojas reelected for another four-year term beginning in 1958.

It was the combined pressure of the church, the business community, the political parties and the people as a whole that finally ousted Rojas despite his attempt to hold on.

ASK MERCY FOR DUNCAN, GUILTY IN 1ST DEGREE

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N.J. (AP)—George Donald Duncan of Upper Darby, Pa., has been found guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy in the fatal stabbing of James Di Dio Jr., in a Wildwood hotel room.

A jury of eight men and four women deliberated three hours yesterday before returning the verdict, which carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

Duncan, 27-year-old former Villanova University night student and father of four, became pale as he stared at each member of the jury as the judge polled them and shook his head as he was

MIDDLE EAST TO ASK MORE HELP

WASHINGTON (AP)—A number of Middle Eastern countries appeared certain today to ask second helpings of United States military and economic aid.

Special Ambassador James P. Richards, reporting Thursday night on his 15-nation tour of the Middle East, said the help he was able to promise "could by no means meet all the needs of the area countries."

Richards announced in a nationwide broadcast that he had committed "military assistance, guns, tanks and things like that" to fill in what he called "soft spots" in Middle Eastern defenses against possible aggression by international communism.

"We also gave some economic help—partly grant and partly loan," he said.

However, he reported that the limited amounts of aid which he had available did not meet the needs, and as a result "there was some disappointment at the amounts we could authorize for an individual country."

SWEETEST MOTHER TO ME

DETROIT (AP)—Raymond Podczewski tossed his school satchel on the kitchen table and ran out to play with some of his five brothers and sisters and neighborhood pals.

That was Thursday and as many a first-grader before him Raymond forgot to take something "real important" from among assorted papers and books in the school bag.

Yesterday Raymond's mother, Mrs. Bertha Podczewski, found that "real important" thing, Raymond had been saving it for Sunday. It was a sheet of drawing paper, decorated with a crayoned flower and crudely formed letters. "My dear darling mother, God made all mothers as good and as kind as can be. But when God chose mothers, God gave the sweetest mother to me."

Shortly after Raymond, who was 6, went out to play. There was a screech of brakes in front of his home, then a sickening thud. A car had hit him. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

taken from the court room.

Will Take Appeal
His attorney, John Patrick Walsh of Philadelphia, said he would appeal the verdict.

No date was set for sentencing. Duncan was found guilty of stabbing to death Di Dio at the Hofbrau Hotel on Oct. 27 after Di Dio found him in a second floor room.

The state claimed Duncan was rifling the room while defense witnesses told the court Duncan became confused after a wedding party and was looking for a rest room when he was confronted by Di Dio, manager of the hotel.

U.S. PROMISES NO "SECRET" SATELLITES

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There will be no secret launching of artificial satellites by the United States, and this country expects Russia to hold to a similar open policy in the international scientific undertaking, an American spokesman said last night.

"We will not launch a satellite until the plans have been announced in advance and until the other nations cooperating in the International Geophysical Year (IGY) have been officially notified," Dr. Joseph Kaplan told newsmen. He heads the U. S. committee for the IGY.

Nebulous Rumors

There have been nebulous rumors that satellites already may have been shot into the air; that Russia may "jump the gun" and launch one or more ahead of the IGY schedule, and that private interests have been toying with the idea of trying to get one into the skies independently. None of these has yielded any substantial fact.

However, navy scientists, who will have official charge of the U. S. launchings, have said test firings of the three-stage rockets designed to carry the satellite would be made within six months.

The IGY program, in which 58 nations are participating, gets under way July 1 and will last through 1958. The only time given so far for the American launchings is that they will take place some time after July 1.

The Russians have carried out their IGY commitments to the letter and have even intensified their cooperative efforts, Dr. Kaplan said.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HOUSTON Tex. — Forest W. McNeil, 81, Houston building contractor who won almost every trapshooting title in the United States after taking up the sport as a hobby in 1908, died Thursday night.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Johnny Mock 64, all-outdoors editor of the Pittsburgh Press and a campaigner for improved hunting and fishing conditions and the preservation of natural resources, died yesterday.

burglaries over the weekend. Three youths were quoted by police last night as admitting they helped take the dynamite and set off the explosions, which occurred in an empty house, an auto and a warehouse Saturday night.

Peter Panchak, 15, and Alfred Stavitsky, 14, admitted both the theft and the detonations. William Ponslick, 13, admitted the theft only.

Four other teen-agers admitted both offenses earlier this week.

PROXY BATTLE ENDS IN PACT

CHICAGO (AP)—The business battle of the year—the bitter fight for control of Fairbanks, Morse & Co.—ended yesterday with a five-year agreement between the company and Penn-Texas Corp.

The pact was signed by leaders of the opposing factions, Leopold D. Silberstein, head of Penn-Texas, and Robert H. Morse Jr., president of the 127-year-old heavy equipment firm.

The signing ended a business tug-of-war that began in January 1956 when Silberstein announced his plan to take over Fairbanks Morse in a proxy contest.

Silberstein and Morse summed up the end of their fight with this joint statement: "We are both pleased that our differences have been amicably settled and we can concentrate now on the continued growth of Fairbanks Morse to the benefit of our customers, our stockholders and our employees."

Hempt Bros. Low For By-Pass Job

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Highways Department today listed a Camp Hill firm as unofficial low bidder for construction of the 5½-mile Lewistown bypass in Mifflin County.

Hempt Bros. submitted a bid of $5,502,120 for the project. It includes construction of 10 bridges and alterations to an existing span along routes 22 and 322 in Lewisburg borough and vicinity.

TEN YEARS AGO

Fairfield High To Close At End Of School Year: Fairfield high school will close at the end of this school year "temporarily, for reasons beyond the control" of the school board.

That was the decision reached Friday evening by the Fairfield school board after a lengthy session held at the school.

The board discussed, thoroughly every possibility of keeping the school open and then, finding there was no possible way of maintaining a high school at Fairfield, voted to close the school at the end of this year.

Albert Hawn Heads Eagles: Albert Hawn was elected president of the Gettysburg Aerie of Eagles at the annual election officers of the lodge Friday night at the club. He will succeed C. David McCullough. Lester Oyler was elected vice president.

Several of the officers were re-elected including Francis Stevens, conductor; Hersh Lauver, chaplain; Harry Pfeiffer, inside guard; Emory Strausbaugh, outside guard, and treasurer, John Storm. Jacob Wright was re-elected trustee for a three-year term.

Littlestown Eagles Elect New Officers: Littlestown Aerie No. 2,226, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held election of officers at the regular meeting Thursday evening. Kenneth Sparver was elected from a field of three to serve as president. Other officers named were: Vice president, Richard Long; chaplain, Carroll Oaster; treasurer, Edward G. Loeffel; conductor, Monroe J. Staveland; inside guard, Samuel Smeltzer; outside guard, Lloyd F. Weaver and trustee for three years, Joseph Selby.

Growers Hopeful Much Fruit Escaped: Temperatures dropped for the third successive night below the freezing mark Friday night and this morning, but fruit growers today were still hopeful that some of the fruit, at least, has escaped the clutch of frost.

Robert Staley Escapes Electric Chair: Jurors Ask Mercy; Out 152 Minutes: Robert L. Staley, 23, Mechanicsburg, was found guilty Saturday of murder in the first degree with a recommendation of a sentence of life imprisonment. A few minutes later Judge W. C. Sheely called Staley before him for sentence.

Staley was placed in custody of Sheriff John E. Millhimes who is to take him to the Eastern penitentiary "for imprisonment for the rest of your natural life."

On Monday night another jury convicted Ray H. Simmons of first degree murder and gave him the death penalty. Staley and Simmons were charged together in the hammer slaying of Herbert L. Humpert the night of March 24.

Martin Luther Statue Unveiled And Dedicated On Campus Of Lutheran Seminary Thursday Afternoon: With a cold wind whipping across Seminary Ridge forcing part of the dedicatory services to be held indoors in the Church of the Abiding Presence, a large bronze statue of Martin Luther, the gift of the late Charles Conhardt, of Baltimore, was unveiled at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon on the campus of the Lutheran Theological Seminary here.

Five hundred Lutherans, clergy and laymen stood with bared heads as two cousins of the donor, Esther Gray, Baltimore, and Robert Conhardt, Lutherville, pulled cords which released the covering of the bronze figure showing "Luther the Teacher" seated with a Bible on his lap and right hand raised as if expounding some statement found in the scriptures.

Expert Scoffs "Dream Roads" Like Turnpike: "Super-duper cross country turnpikes would be an extravagance. We don't need them and probably never will." This is the declaration of Thomas H. MacDonald, United States commissioner of roads, made in an article in the first issue of Holiday magazine last year and later condensed in The Readers Digest.

Today's Talk

FOR THE DAY ONLY

Why do we borrow the troubles and problems of tomorrow, or six months from now, when we all know they may be settled right now—today—if we put our will and determination to work and turn to faith. Dr. Oser puts it this way: "It is the practice of living for the day only, and for the day's work, life in day-tight compartments."

Our only definite assurance we have is this day. How important, then, it is for each one of us to do the tasks of today in the best way we know, and let tomorrow take care of itself. Most of us anticipate too much—like Micawber, the Dickens character, thinking that something good will turn up for us. Mostly the worries of today never occur tomorrow.

Carlisle put it this way: "Our main business is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand." There may never be a tomorrow! It is a comforting thought for us to feel that we have lived happily and sincerely—today. To do so is to set before us the opportunity for a habit that may never leave us stranded and alone.

By concentrating upon a clear and inspiring way of life, we set up a program that will bless all our future acts and achievements. No need for worries, either, for with our set plan there isn't room to let them in! Worries are too destructive, and what we want most is a truly constructive way of life, a way that can be a pattern for others, outside ourselves.

Every morning, upon awakening, school yourself to the idea of living the day only, allowing no one to divert you from your decision to make each day notable and complete in itself. Blessings then will cluster about you, and the zest for life will result, and give you pride in all that you set out to do!

Just Folks

EXAMPLE

I do not ask through life, to be from every care and burden free. I'll be content if time will tell That I have tried to bear them well.

Since no instructions come with birth, I had to learn the way to worth. From others' deeds, since I was free To choose what seemed the best for me.

To many credit I must give For teaching me the way to live And letting it be plainly seen How much both faith and courage mean.

I wonder is it God's design That many lives should blend with mine, That I should try my whole life through As other men have done, to do?

SHOWERS EASE FIRE DANGERS; NEED MORE RAIN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cooling showers eased but did not end the forest fire crisis in much of the parched Northeast Friday night. A soaking rain still was needed.

Light rain dampened most of New York State and Massachusetts. Thunder storms swept across Pennsylvania while scattered showers hit Maine, Connecticut and Vermont.

But not a sprinkle was reported in bone-dry New Jersey woodlands.

Thousands Of Acres

The flames have cracked through thousands of acres of timber in the Northeast. Damage totals millions of dollars.

The state-by-state situation yesterday:

Massachusetts—The most serious blazes at Plymouth, Athol and Montague were reported under control. But Gov. Foster Furcolo said the National Guard would attempt cloud seeding today to coax heavy rain from skies in four areas of the state.

New Fires In N. Y.

New Jersey—All fires were reported under control. Nineteen new fires broke out and destroyed nearly 700 acres. Since Tuesday, 100 fires have roared through 7,000 acres.

New York—Five new fires, all small, reported. Showers helped slow down fires still burning. In the past two weeks about 1,000 fires have blackened 15,000 acres.

Connecticut—Two new fires reported, both small.

Rain In Western Pa.

Pennsylvania—Thunderstorms dumped up to three-quarters of an inch of rain on the western part of the state. A new fire burned over 500 acres near a YMCA camp in the Bushkill area in the eastern section.

The rain was the first in nearly a month in many areas of the Northeast. But officials said it wasn't enough to break the drought.

In New Jersey nearly 200 patients were evacuated from a tuberculosis sanitarium for children near Farmingdale when smoke wreathed the buildings. Firefighters checked the blaze short of the hospital.

Jim's wish, for instance, is for a camera. Charles wants a microscope. The four first-place winners—two boys and two girls—will have their wishes fulfilled up to $125 worth.

Thirty-nine judges began studying the displays Thursday as the three-day fair opened. The wish awards will be presented Saturday.

The contestants already have won awards, however — the awards that earned them the trip to Los Angeles. They are the winners of science fairs in different parts of the country.

Some are sponsored by newspapers, others by medical associations, Chambers of Commerce, or science groups. The National fair is conducted each year by Science Service, a nonprofit Washington, D. C., organization established to popularize science.

Sign Language On City Outer Drive

CHICAGO (AP) — A motorist driving on Chicago's outer drive often sees the strangest sights — beauties along the Lake Michigan beaches, a billboard or a driving rain storm. But the strangest one of all involved new signs of the times.

A car with Texas license plates displayed a sign which said, "Made in Texas by Texans"; another car had another which said, "Made in Kenosha by Kenosha's." A third car showed a sign on a foreign-made car saying, "Made in der Black Forest by Elfs."

On the way home, the commuter saw another foreign-made car with a sign that said, "Made in Africa by Anis."

SAY BUSINESS ACTIVITY WILL RISE THIS YEAR

By STERLING F. GREEN

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Signs that the economy is gathering strength for a gradual rise in business activity throughout 1957 were reported today to top industry and government officials.

Evidence that the early-year hesitation is ending was readied for presentation to Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Treasury Humphrey in a business-outlook session of the Commerce Department's business Advisory Council (BAC).

Though the meeting of about 100 heads of the country's largest corporations was closed to the press, reporters learned that the council's panel of consulting economists foresees these trends:

See New Record

Total production of goods and services rising slowly to a record rate of about 435 billion dollars annually by the final quarter of the year. That compares with 427 billion in the January-February-March quarter.

Some letup in inflationary pressures, but the momentum of the upsurge of the past 10 months may carry the consumer price index up another point or two to a new record high. Prices now are about 19 per cent above the 1947 average.

A possible increase, rather than the expected leveling-off, in the rate of industry's spending on new plant and equipment in the second half of 1957. Plant investment now is at a record rate of 38 billion a year.

Wage increases quite close to the level of last year's settlements, or a little over 10 cents an hour. Also, little indication of serious strike shutdowns.

The report was prepared for presentation by T. V. Houser, board chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and chairman of the BAC's committee on economic policy. It was based on findings of a group of economists in private industry and the Commerce Department.

CHURCH UNITY IS FRIGHTENING MANY GROUPS

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP)—American's separate church denominations were pictured today as being caught in a two-way squeeze—they want closer unity, but they're also scared of it.

Furthermore, a report said, they don't know just "what sort" of unity they want.

The report was presented to the U. S. Conference of the World Council of Churches, in sizing up the prospects for a coming continent-wide meeting on "The nature of the unity we seek."

"Fears of the evils involved in any universal monolithic church structure are widespread among Protestants," the report said. It also asserted most churches want "some sort of increase of unity among Christ's people."

Presented by the Rev. Dr. Walter Horton, of the Oberlin, Ohio, Graduate Theological Seminary, the report said:

"New Vatican"

"If there is one thing that is keeping certain conservative Protestant groups aloof from the ecumenical movement, it is the suspicion that by some unstated tacit agreement the movement is already headed toward a new Vatican."

The report detailed work going on in preparation for a North American unity conference at Oberlin, Ohio, next fall, sponsored by the National and Canadian Councils of Churches, and the U. S. Conference of the World Council.

The conference meeting here includes representatives of 32 Orthodox and Protestant denominations. It is the national wing of the World Council, which embraces 165 member denominations in 50 countries with about 170 million members.

Much of the business at this session has dealt with the future unity conclave.

Mount Drops Final Game To Baltimore 10-8; Jack Sullivan Gets Four Hits

Mt. St. Mary's rallied vainly for five runs in the ninth inning as it closed its baseball season by submitting to Baltimore University 10-8 in a game played at Emmitsburg Friday afternoon.

The defeat left the Mountaineers with a 9-9 record for the season. Ray Travis, Baltimore hurler, fanned 14 Mount batsmen and was able to weather the ninth inning uprising thanks to a 10-3 lead built up by his teammates.

Jack Sullivan was the big gun for the Mountaineers, poling a homerun and three singles.

Joe Starke started on the mound for Mt. St. Mary's and was charged with the loss. He was relieved in the seventh by Joe Mahoney when the Bees scored three runs.

ORTEGA BEATS LOGART AGAIN IN SPLIT DECISION

By MURRAY ROSE

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Gaspar Ortega's second consecutive victory over Cuba's slick Isaac Logart has boosted the strong Mexican Indian's claim for a title shot at welterweight champion Carmen Basilio.

"We want Basilio and nothing else," said Ortega and Manager Jimmy Stinson after Gaspar's bulldozing power assaults had gained him a close, split decision in a telecast 12-rounder last night in the War Memorial Auditorium.

Ortega's contention was backed by Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club.

Low Blow Knockdown

"Right now we hope to make the Basilio-Ray Robinson middleweight title fight for this summer," said Markson. "If we can't make that for July we'll try to get Basilio to defend his title and we feel Ortega deserves the shot off his win over Logart."

A strong, pressure drive in the ninth, tenth and eleventh round of a bitterly waged battle—marred by a low blow knockdown of Ortega in the second round—carried the 21-year-old Mexican to his important triumph. He won those three rounds for the narrow edge.

Logart won his rounds with his polished left hooks to the head and body. Berl (7-4) and judge Harold Barnes (6-5-1) voted for Ortega. Judge Joe Agnello scored it 7-5 for Logart. The Associated Press had Ortega ahead, 6-4-2.

Ortega, who weighed 147 to Logart's 146, now has a 2-1 edge over the Cuban and a 40-8 record. Logart is 49-7-5. A crowd of 2,188 paid $5.709.

SANFORD AND MARIS FAVORED AS TOP ROOKIES

By JOE REICHLER

The Associated Press

Philadelphia's Jack Sanford and Cleveland's Roger Maris are early season favorites for the major leagues' rookie-of-the-year honors.

Sanford, 27-year-old right-handed pitcher for the Phillies, leads all National League pitchers with a 4-0 record. Maris, 21-year-old Cleveland, is up among the American League leaders with five home runs and 17 runs batted in on a .315 batting average.

Sanford's three-hitter last night highlighted Philadelphia's 3-1 triumph over Pittsburgh which boosted the Phillies into fourth place, a game back of Brooklyn.

The rookie fanned 10 and had a shutout until the ninth when a walk followed by Hank Folles triple produced the only Pirate run.

Maris clouted a home run with a mate aboard in Cleveland's three-run rally against freshman southpaw Gen Host. The Indians' 4-1 victory over Kansas City boosted the Tribe into third place, a half game behind New York.

The Chicago White Sox made it two in a row over Detroit with a 6-4 victory that gave them undisputed possession if first place, a full game in front of the Yankees who were beaten by Baltimore 4-1. Rain forced the postponement of the scheduled game between Washington and the Red Sox in Boston.

Milwaukee snapped its three-game losing streak with a 10-5 victory over St. Louis that increased the Braves' lead over the Cincinnati Reds to one game. The Reds' scheduled game with the Cubs in Chicago was postponed because of rain. The New York Giants dropped third place Brooklyn two games from the top with a 2-1 triumph over the Dodgers.

First For Pizarro

A pair of wild pitches by Luis Arroyo, in relief of Ronnie Kline in the eighth inning, allowed two Philadelphia runners to cross the plate with what proved to be the winning runs.

Juan Pizarro, Milwaukee's rookie southpaw, gained his first major league victory with the help of teammates Johnny Logan and Eddie Mathews who drove in eight of the Braves' 10 runs. Logan batted in five runs with a home run, a two-run double and a pair of run-scoring singles.

Mathews smashed a two-run homer, doubled and added a run-producing single.

Willie Mays came off a hospital bed from a virus bout to wallop a triple and two singles, drive in one run and score the other in the Giants' 2-1 victory over Brooklyn. Right-handed Ruben Gomez limited the Dodgers to seven hits for his fourth triumph against one defeat. The loser was Sal Maglie.

Chisox Batters Better

The White Sox broke their batting slump with a 13-hit attack against three Detroit pitchers, shelling rookie Don Lee from the mound with a four-run assault in the fifth. Billy Pierce gained credit for his fourth victory but Gerry Staley had to quiet the Tigers in the ninth.

Mike Garcia had a two-hit shutout until the ninth. Then three singles produced a Kansas City run and brought in Ray Narleski, who quickly disposed of the next two batters.

Connie Johnson made his first victory of the year a beauty by limiting the world champion Yankees to eight hits and striking out eight batters.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It looks as though this might be a pitchers' season in the Eastern League.

Charley Kolakowski of the Reading Indians is the latest to toss a neat shutout—this one against the league-leading Schenectady Blue Jays—in a period when the batters often have the upper hand.

Kolakowski allowed only one Jay runner to reach third base last night as he scattered four hits, while Reading roared to a 6-0 triumph.

It was the only game played. Others were postponed because of rain.

Kolakowski struck out seven and walked two. The victory put Reading in fourth place, 12 percentage points ahead of Albany, and cut Schenectady's first-place margin over Binghamton to a single game.

by the way the million-dollar southpaw's eye is clearing. He said the eye may be clear enough for an examination today, but more likely it will come Sunday.

A line drive crunched into Score's face at Cleveland Stadium Tuesday night when the Cleveland Indians' ace was pitching against the New York Yankees. Since then bleeding has limited his medical treatment mainly to rest and quiet and some drugs to ease pain and stimulate absorption of the hemorrhage.

Water was first piped into the White House in Washington from a well in 1833.

Coach Dick Allison and his Biglerville High School baseball team are now anxiously awaiting the outcome of the Boiling Springs-Big Spring game Monday which will determine if the Canniers will get another chance to retain their regular season Adams County League title.

Dick Byers, with a homerun and triple, led Biglerville to a 4-1 victory over Fairfield Friday at Biglerville. If Boiling Springs wins the final game Monday the Bubbler's cop the championship. A win for Big Spring would create a tie for first place and mean a playoff between Boiling Springs and Biglerville.

Fairfield tabbed its only run in the third inning. Successive walks to Dick and Cool resulted in Harold Wright replacing starter Ed Crum on the mound for Biglerville. Mort singled to load the bases and Dick scored on Cline's grounder to second base.

Other Transfers
Transfer to the Justice Department the state's three training schools at Morgantown, Kis-Lyn and Luzerne County.

Transfer to the new Public Assistance and Welfare Department the State Council for the Blind and the State Welfare Commission.

At the same time the bill would divide up the present welfare departments powers and duties among the three departments.

If the measure became law it could mean that Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro would be displaced June 1 of this year, the effective date of the measure.

Sponsors of the measure are Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, and E. E. Lipincott (R-Delaware).

Western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia: temperature will possibly average from 3 degrees above normal south to normal in the north, showers and scattered thunderstorms are expected Saturday and may occur again Tuesday or Wednesday, total amounts likely to vary widely and be spotty, ranging from one-tenth to one-half inch.

Battle To Save Olympia Is Won
PHILADELPHIA — The long battle to save Adm. Dewey's flagship Olympia appeared won today, said the head of the group which wants to preserve the ship as a national shrine.

Francis D. Pastorius, president of the Currier Olympia Assn., said he had received word from Washington that the Navy had finally agreed to turn the ship over to the association instead of scrapping it.

Dewey was aboard the Olympia when he blasted the Spanish defenses at Manila Bay in May 1898 during the Spanish-American War.

Pastorius said a shipping repair firm had agreed to underwrite the repair costs until a national campaign fund can reimburse the company. It's planned to moor the Olympia in the Delaware River at the foot of Market Street here, in the heart of the old colonial section of Philadelphia.

NO NEWS ABOUT DODGERS AND GIANTS MOVING

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK —The Dodgers are still in New York and George Christopher still is mayor of San Francisco. That sums up the surface news of yesterday's mysterious baseball conferences, conducted in a cloak-and-dagger atmosphere.

Because Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick dropped the Iron Curtain on all public discussion of big league franchise transfers by clubowners, the real story is hidden.

The New York Post said last night that the Dodgers were going to go to Los Angeles in 1958 while the New York World Telegram and Sun reported the Giants were considering San Francisco.

Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, did meet with the mayor of San Francisco and Francis McCarthy, chairman of the San Francisco major league baseball committee, in a New York hotel yesterday afternoon. Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, had lunch with the trio and then left for another meeting after showing them a model of his pet project, an all-weather stadium with a top of some synthetic material.

"We had a discussion about the possibility of bringing major league baseball to San Francisco," said Christopher. "Mr. Stoneham is prohibited from commenting further by reason of a telegram from Commissioner Ford Frick with which he desires to comply. As a result there will be no further statements by any of the parties."

BUILDING AND FARM

Methods To Prevent Milk Odors From Early Pasture Announced By County Agent

By FRANK S. ZETTL

Adams County Farm Agent

Dairymen cannot afford to risk milk rejections due to off-flavors and odors during the early pasture season. This problem can be largely eliminated by proper management of the dairy herd and pastures.

Introduce cows gradually to pasture, by turning them out for only an hour or so for the first several days of the season. It is also important to remove cows from the pasture at least 3 hours prior to milking. Follow this practice for 2 weeks after grazing is started, especially if rye is pastured.

Continue to feed fair amounts of hay or silage until cows have been on pasture for 2-3 weeks, and do not abruptly reduce the amounts of grain fed, or the protein content of the grain mixture, for a similar period.

When pastures are infested with garlic, onion, bitter-sweet, honey-suckle, dogs fennel or other flavor-tainting weeds, remove cows from such pasture at least 6 hours before milking. Since this is often impractical, it is best to use infested fields for pasture young stock, or dry cows. Chemical treatment and other weeds control measures may be used to control garlic and other obnoxious weeds.

Corn Club's 10th Year

The Pennsylvania Corn Club and the Pennsylvania Grassland Club, both open to Adams County farmers, will operate again in 1957.

The clubs will again be sponsored by the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association in cooperation with Agricultural Extension Service. Purposes of the two clubs are similar: to stimulate better farming practices in growing corn, and in seeding, and use of grasses and legumes. This will be the tenth year for the Corn Club and the sixth year for the Grassland Club. In 1956 a total of 203 farmers qualified for awards in the Corn Club and 63 in the Grassland Club. Awards are presented by the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association.

Any farm operator, not under 21 years of age on July 15, 1957, may join the Grassland Club by filling out an enrollment form and returning it to his county agent not later than July 15. Enrollment blanks will be supplied by the county agent. Management report forms will be sent to those enrolled. These must be returned, filled out, on or before September 1 to be eligible for scoring. The scoring will be based on production and management for entire farms within one county, not on individual fields, and will be supervised by the Extension Service.

The Corn Club, open to any farm operator not under 21 years of age on August 1, 1957, may be entered up to August 1. Enrollment blanks may be obtained from the county agent. Farmers must enter not less than five acres of one hybrid or variety at one location on the farm on non-irrigated land. The hybrid or variety must be used for corn

Do's and Don't's

DO... understand that even an expert cannot do a good job of painting the outside of a house if the surface is chalky, scaly or otherwise in poor condition, while an amateur can get good results when the surface is prepared properly.

DO... remove loose, scaling paint with a putty knife, hand scraper or wire brush, following with steel wool or sandpaper to complete the smoothing.

DON'T... paint when the temperature is below 50 degrees Fahrenheit, when there is high humidity or immediately after a rain.

DON'T... use a blow torch for removing paint, even if you see professional painters do it.

DON'T... overlook the use of an old, clean paint brush for brushing away the dust and grit particles which cling to the wood after sanding and steel wooling.

production, not seed production. The county agent offers to supply full information on either or both clubs.

Fertilizer Aids Corn Stand

Proper placement of fertilizer is the key to good corn stands. Research shows that all fertilizers will cause serious delay in seed germination if placed one inch or closer to the seed. Fertilizer should never be placed on the seed, over the seed, or just under the seed.

For safety, fertilizer should be never placed any closer than 2 inches from the seed in any direction. Generally, a good fertilizer placement would be in a band 2 inches below and 2 inches to the side of the seed. This placement of fertilizer can't be accomplished by most of the "old split boot" fertilizer attachments.

One corn planter is designed to place fertilizer on both sides and below the corn seed. In addition, three major line manufacturers of corn planters have fertilizer openers (optional equipment) that place the fertilizer to one side as recommended. These openers are single disk openers, with the fertilizer tube attached to them.

Adams County Farm Agent Frank S. Zettle is shown with county agents from six other counties at the Pennsylvania Industrial School farm, Camp Hill, where the agents planned activities for the Seven County Farm and Home Days to be held June 4 and 5 at the Industrial School farm near Camp Hill. Zettle will have charge of several of the exhibits and demonstrations for the "Days" which are expected to attract hundreds of farmers and their families to the Industrial School farm. Miss Florence Finger, Adams County home economics extension representative, will be in charge of a number of exhibits for the homemakers. Those shown in the picture, taken in a shed at the farm, are: Seated left to right, C. P. Fague, Franklin County agent; John F. Fogel, Cumberland County agent and general chairman; Francis J. ## START FIRST RANDOM SAMPLE P.A. EGG TEST

More than 2,800 day-old chicks will be transferred today from the Pennsylvania State University to the Fruitville Poultry Farm near Lancaster for rearing in the state's first random sample egg laying test.

John L. Rainey, director of the Bureau of Markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, said the birds will be kept under careful observation until September, 1958, to test and grade their laying ability.

The program is designed to provide a basis for commercial poultrymen to evaluate entries with respect to egg production and other economic factors, Rainey said.

Plans For Test

Each of 48 poultry breeders from nine states several weeks ago sent 210 eggs to be hatched under uniform conditions at the Penn State College of Agriculture. More than 50 pullet chicks from each entry will be placed in the first stage of the test on the Lancaster County poultry farm.

The random sample test next September will replace the 25-year-old Pennsylvania Official Egg Laying Test in which egg production is measured under different standards. Cooperating with the department in the new type of test are the university and the State Poultry Federation.

After being reared in Lancaster County under typical commercial farm conditions for 150 days, the test birds will be transported to laying houses near the Pennsylvania Farm Show Building, Harrisburg.

Each breeder will have two pens of 25 birds each. The number and weight of eggs produced by each bird and pen will be recorded along

Tornado-Proof Homes Can Last

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP) — A University of Michigan researcher says tornado-proof houses can be built for between $50 and $350 above initial construction costs.

George W. Reynolds of the University's engineering research institute has been studying tornado scenes since 1949.

"Houses can be built to survive most, if not all, such storms," he said. "I have yet to see a single case in which a house bolted to its foundation was destroyed. This is not conclusive proof, of course, but it is suggestive."

Reynolds said adequate internal bracing and proper air vents also would cut down damage.

Gardener Avoids Worry Knowing Seed Timetable

Like most of gardening's frustrations, impatience over slow-sprouting seeds usually disappears as the gardener acquires more knowhow.

Flower seeds have a wide time range in germination, and the gardener who looks for a slow-germinating seed to show some activity a week after it is planted is doomed to disappointment and needless fear that "something is wrong."

When the new gardener decides his seeds are lifeless because they haven't sprouted he is apt to abandon them. Then, when they do appear above ground and are in need of immediate attention, they have been forgotten and go unnoticed.

To avoid this needless waste, it is advisable to know the germination tables of all flowers planted. For example, here are some flowers which should germinate within five days:

Ageratum, amaranthus, anthemis, candytuft, cardinal climber, centaurea, clarkia, calliopis, cosmos, cynoglossum, dahlias, annual pinks, helianthus, helichrysum, annual mallow, marigold, mignonne, four-o'clocks, Virginia stocks, viscaria and zinnia.

Wide Grown Flowers

When a flower has large seed and colorful blossoms, it is bound to be widely grown and popular, being easy to grow. Marigolds and zinnias, which share with petunias the popularity prize, are fast growing and have large seeds. Petunias, however, are an exception to the rule among highly popular flowers and have small seeds, can take up to 12 days to germinate and are seldom sown directly in the garden.

Ten day germinators, include acroclium, pimpermell, anchusa, snapdragons, asters, balsam, brachycome, calendula, carnation, cerastium, cleome, cosmos, dimorphotheca, California poppy, gypsophila, lobelia, lupin, nigella, pansy poppy, portulaca, scabiosa, tithonia.

In the 15 to 20 day varieties, we find begonia, datura, annual larkspur, godetia, impatiens, kochia, primula, salvia, salpiglossis, sweet peas. Of these larkspur and salpiglossis seldom thrive when transplanted and should be sown directly in the garden. In the case of flowers sown in this manner, the gardener should exercise great care that the seed bed is not disturbed before the sprouts appear.

Ever since Iceberg crosswise? The slices are good used as a base for mounds or sea food salad.

The Fox Forage Master, with its full 6-ft. mower bar, harvests 35 or more tons of grass silage an hour, depending on the crop. If you want still greater capacity, the new Hevi-Duty FOX, with its full 7-ft. mower bar chops and loads as much forage in 5 hours as most machines do in 7.

Ruggedness and long life are built into every Fox Forage Harvester. Many machines in operation 10 years and longer. . . Cylinder type cutting mechanism insures positive sharp shearing cut. . . Field sharpening is quick and simple. . . Fox safety features prevent damage to the machine from rocks or other hard objects entering the knives.

Fox harvests all forage crops. One man, without tools, can change to pick-up, mower bar, or corn unit in 10 minutes.

It's Easy To Lay Out Yard For Big Garden Harvests

In selecting flower and vegetable seeds for your garden, let your personal preference be your guide to colors, variety and types of vegetables.

If your family is mad about beets, tomatoes and radishes, plant more of them rather than some of the other vegetables.

As for flowers, everyone has favorite colors or shades. These color preferences are reflected in the decor within the home. Let this follow through with your outdoor decor.

There must be balance inside the home to make a pleasing arrangement. The same goes for the yard. There is no point in planting small or low-growing annuals next to a wall, and then covering them up in front with taller flowers.

In a sketch of the yard, indicate background, middle ground and foreground in any flower borders which you are planning.

Cosmos Are Good

Select flowers for your background planting which are high. Cosmos, which grow from four to eight feet, are especially good for this area as well as Celosia, or Cockscomb as it is sometimes called.

Cosmos is available in rose, pink, white or red and the Celosia blossom is brilliant red or yellow. Other good background flowers are hollyhocks, datura (angel's trumpet or French lilies), and amaranthus. These provide a wide range of colors.

In the middleground, plant salvia, which are scarlet; anchusa, a bright blue flower; and tall ageratum which offer shades of blue, white and rose. Another good middle ground flower is fragrant tobacco, a white blossom with a very pleasant perfume of its own.

Place the smaller flowers such as nasturtiums, verbena and annual phlox in the foreground. For a circular or isolated flower bed in the yard, use the shorter flowers such as dwarf marigolds, verbena, petunias and dwarf zinnias.

Try lobelias, sweet alyssum and portulaca (moss roses) for edgings along walks, borders or driveways.

With the vegetable garden, a small area can be surprisingly productive if the area is well planned.

A space roughly comprising 1,000 square feet can provide enough fresh vegetables for a family of four.

In a very small garden, the greatest return can be realized by concentrating on the leafy, green and yellow vegetables and tomatoes. Sweet corn, beets, radishes, peppers, cucumbers and squash can be added in a larger garden area.

Avoid North Side

In selecting the site for a vegetable garden, steer clear of the north side of buildings or under shade trees. Vegetables need all of the sunlight they can get. A picket fence makes an excellent backdrop for a vegetable garden site as long as it is not to the south of the plot where it might make too much shade. The fence is handy also for tying up such plants as tomatoes and beans.

In buying packets of vegetable seeds, consult your seed catalog, seed store or garden supply store as to how much you will need. Seed should be sown thinly to give the plants room in which to expand as they grow. The average packet of carrot seed, for instance, contains approximately one-tenth of an ounce of seed. Five packets of carrot seed are sufficient to seed five rows of 20 feet in length. One ounce of radish seed is usually planted for five 20 foot rows.

To give an idea of the estimated yield, the one-half ounce of carrot seed should yield about one and one-half bushels, while the yield from the ounce of radish seed is estimated at 100 bunches.

"Operation Flower Seed" is now underway in the fire-stricken Malibu area of California. More than 10,000 pounds of assorted flower seeds were donated to Los Angeles County by the American Seed Trade Association to assist in the rehabilitation and beautification of more than 20,000 acres of Malibu destroyed in the raging blaze this winter. County officials are shown transferring sacks of the seed to helicopters which are sowing the seeds on the hills and other hard-to-reach spots. Boy and Girl Scouts, Civil Defense workers and other volunteers are also sowing other areas with the seed, which is valued at $150,000. The flowers will provide a quick ground cover and add fragrance and beauty to the now blackened earth.

LEADER TALKS TO CHURCHMEN

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Gov. Leader of Pennsylvania called Friday for a practical application in government of the teachings of Christ. He said American churches "must work to make government responsive to Christian beliefs."

Flower and vegetable gardening can be one of the most rewarding hobbies. Gardening not only provides exercise and fresh air but lends beauty and color to the exterior of the home and provides cut flowers to brighten up the interior. Serving and eating vegetables from one's own garden is another delightful experience that is hard to match.

Dr. Alfred Van Wageningen, managing director of the council, reported this week that a poll of close to 400,000 readers of "Poultry Tribune" showed a clear-cut preference for limiting federal aid to poultrymen to "disaster insurance."

The close parallel between Tribune's survey and our own," said Dr. Van Wageningen, "not only validates the NEPPCO poll findings, but indicates that other sections of the country share the northeastern poultryman's resistance to economic capitivity."

Favor "Free Markets"
Poultry Tribune's eastern readers favored a "free market" system with a thumping majority of 65.4 per cent. In the Midwest, 56.1 per cent voted for it; in the south, 64.6 per cent, and on the Pacific coast, 50.1 per cent. More than 95 per cent returning ballots were producers, with 74.2 per cent being egg producers.

In some areas, "splinter" organizations have attempted to attack the validity of the NEPPCO survey. Dr. Van Wageningen warned. Lacking facts to substantiate their opinions as to what is desirable for the poultry industry, he said, they have sought to discredit the survey and its reflection in NEPPCO's new policy.

"The council is firmly dedicated to the American right of honest disagreement," Dr. Van Wageningen added. "We do not insist that other poultry groups subscribe to NEPPCO's policy on free markets. We do feel, however, that we have a right to hold those views, free from personal attack and invective."

SURVEY SHOWS POULTRYMEN IN U.S. PREFER FREE MARKET

TRENTON, N. J. — A nationwide survey, conducted by one of the country's top poultry publications, reveals that most poultrymen are heartily in favor of free poultry and egg markets, and opposed to government intervention.

The survey lends additional weight to the recent study conducted in the 14 northeastern states by the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council (NEPPCO).

Dr. Alfred Van Wageningen, managing director of the council, reported this week that a poll of close to 400,000 readers of "Poultry Tribune" showed a clear-cut preference for limiting federal aid to poultrymen to "disaster insurance."

The close parallel between Tribune's survey and our own," said Dr. Van Wageningen, "not only validates the NEPPCO poll findings, but indicates that other sections of the country share the northeastern poultryman's resistance to economic capitivity."

We do feel, however, that we have a right to hold those views, free from personal attack and invective."

Oppose Subsidies
"We have done everything possible to insure the accuracy of our findings," he continued. "We are satisfied that we have an accurate reflection of the opinion of our members, and have no alternative but to express that resistance to government intervention in our formal policy statement."

The council leader went on to point out that the organization did not contend that it spoke for all poultrymen in the nation in its "hands off" policy, but that it did accurately represent the views of the majority of its membership.

The survey showed that more than 65 per cent of the poultry farmers replying wanted a minimum of interference from federal economic planners. Of this group, more than 43 per cent favored all-out industry resistance to subsidies and controls of any kind.

Founded Association
Deploing the emphasis upon price support policy, Dr. Van Wageningen pointed out that other aspects of the council's new program are likely to prove more significant in terms of long-term expansion of industry incomes.

"Our work in developing strong marketing agencies alone, has and will continue to exert more upward influence upon farm incomes than any other single factor," he declared.

The council's Division of Cooperatives three years ago founded the Northeastern Poultry Cooperative Association — a central marketing agency to assure northeastern market egg producers of a firm voice in the New York market.

Other council activities include legislative activity for industry interests such as the recent move for mandatory poultry meat inspection and the establishment of vaccine standards; the sponsorship of egg grading and marketing schools; chicken barbecue schools, and other basic services.

The best chicken soup is made by simmering a nice fat hen; the slow cooking yields fine flavor.

Use Glyodin!

FOR APPLES

FOR PEACHES

FOR RED TART CHERRIES

You get more than protection against apple scab and summer diseases by using CRAG Glyodin fungicide. It can help cut mite spray costs, too! One grower saved $1,166 in special mite sprays because Glyodin kept mites from building up in his apple orchard. It suppresses mites, but does not harm beneficial insects that feed on mites. Some commonly-used insecticides tend to be more effective with CRAG Glyodin than with other commonly used fungicides. This help in insect control has been proved in more than 20 tests using several fungicides.

FOR PEACHES INTERPLANTED with APPLES

Spray your interplanted peaches and control brown rot with the same CRAG Glyodin spray mix that controls scab on apples. You save work and materials and grow better fruit on both interplanted peaches and apples. Virginia Experiment Station also includes Glyodin as part of the spray schedule for the control of bacteriosis of peaches.

When you spray cherries with CRAG Glyodin, it covers foliage well and sticks tight through rains to give excellent control of leaf spot. CRAG Glyodin contains no copper — you get no copper ring injury. It helps keep trees healthy with green leaves that stay on until late fall. CRAG Glyodin costs the least for leaf spot control — and returns the most. Growers report larger, sweeter cherries that grade better. Canners say cherries pit better.

NO OTHER fruit fungicide gives you so many advantages at such low cost — on apples, 75¢ per 100 gallons of early spray and 54¢ per 100 gallons of cover spray. It pays to use CRAG Glyodin. Order now!

Jointure. The Junior Chorus, conducted by Mrs. Elmira S. Deardorff, vocal music instructor, sang five numbers. Doing the solo parts were Eileen Crouse and Harold Rader. The piano accompanist was Donna Rabenstein.

This year the dance band entertained with three songs. The band is directed by Charles E. Tressler, of the faculty and is composed of Suzanne Blocher, Frances Miller, Robert Clark, Tyrone Maitland, Larry Huff, Gary Streig, Kenneth Koonz, Wanda Pettyjohn, Gloria Burgoon, Joyce Yealy, John Groff, Hugh Roberts, James Patterson, Janet Sell and Donna Morelock. Mary Ann Burgoon, vocalist with the group, sang "Canadian Sunset." She was chosen this year for all state chorus and recently had an audition with Ted Mack and His Original Amateur Hour in Philadelphia.

Climax "God of Our Fathers"

The Senior Chorus appeared under the direction of Mrs. Deardorff, and accompanied by Jane Barton, Soloist for the Fred Waring arrangement of "Erie Canal" was Robert Clark. The closing portion of the program consisted of selections by the Senior Band, under the baton of Mr. Harner. Hugh Roberts played Stephen Foster's "My Old Kentucky Home" as a cornet solo, and he also directed the band in playing "The Fairest of the Fair" by John Philip Sousa. The high school majorettes, Judy Long, Betty Wallick, Frances Miller and Heidi Nickey, also performed during the Sousa march. The musical concluded with the choruses and bands joining to do the Paul Lavalle arrangement of "God of Our Fathers." Usherettes were Eileen Beck, Ruth Koonz, Shirley Hoff and Mildred Koonz.

Mr. King Speaks

Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Jointure, spoke during intermission, stating that there are now 300 pupils receiving instruction in instrumental music. There are 68 members of the Senior Band, grades 9 to 12; 98 in the Junior Band, grades 7, 8 and 9. There are 118 song flutes players and 176 students divided among wind, brass and percussion instruments. It was also noted that there are more who could be in the Senior Band, but there are no additional uniforms. The present uniforms are five years old, and there has been a substantial contribution from a school patron toward a new uniform fund. Private lessons are being taken at the school by a number of pupils and this is encouraged. The instrumental music has grown to such an extent, along with the vocal program, as to necessitate an additional part-time teacher in both departments before the term begins for 1957-1958. The Senior Band also has approximately thirty engagements for the summer months, and Mr. King expressed his appreciation to the students for being willing to give their time and talents for the engagements as well as to the parents for their permission.

HAIR STYLING IS THEME FOR JUNIOR WOMEN

"Hair Styling and Make-up" was the theme of the evening's program for the monthly meeting of the Junior Woman's Club of Littlestown, held on Thursday at Boyd's, 8 E. King St. Mrs. Patsy Crouse, owner and operator of Patsy's Beauty Salon, near town, was the guest speaker for the occasion.

Mrs. Crouse told the club women about the different ways of applying the various kinds of make-up, and after some demonstrations, each woman put on her own cosmetics. There was a talk on hair styling, and the beautician styled hair-dos for Mrs. Donald C. Feiser, Mrs. Robert W. Hall and Mrs. R. Kenneth Boyd, and after using them as models, combed their hair several different ways. The program was arranged by the publicity committee, Mrs. Kenneth Boyd, chairman.

The business session was conducted by the first vice president, Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr. Monthly reports were given by Mrs. Joseph T. Renaldi, secretary; Mrs. William R. Keefer, treasurer, and Mrs. Laverne P. Louey, cheer committee chairman. It was announced that candy is being sold by the club, and orders may be placed with any of the members. Mrs. Robert R. Reinaman, who as delegate along with four other members attended the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Women's Clubs, held recently in Philadelphia, reported on the convention proceedings.

Activity Reports

Activity reports of the organization were heard from Mrs. Charles E. Tressler, concerning the Tot-Land project. No further action was taken on the matter of equipping a section of the community playground suitable for play for pre-school children. Mrs. Tressler also announced that on the project of the club presenting an award to a local high school senior, there could be no agreement reached as to the

There will also be projects by the students in science classes and live demonstrations on various things. The public is invited to visit the school on Maple Ave. for the open house.

category for the award; therefore the club decided to drop the proposed project. The success of Easter egg hunt for the children of members was reported by Mrs. Robert Morget. The guess package, given by Mrs. Wilbur M. Sentz, was won by Mrs. Louey.

A brief business meeting of the Junior Woman's Club will be held Thursday, June 13, 8 p.m. at Boyd's, at which time standing committee for the year will be named. Plans will also be made for a club trip sometime in June.

The annual mother and daughter banquet of St. John's Lutheran Church will take place on Monday evening in the church social hall at 6:30 o'clock. The meal will be served by the Men's Brotherhood. A program will follow in charge of the Ever-Willig Class.

ULC Women Meet

Mrs. Donald C. Arbogast, E. Myrtle St., will be hostess to the Young Women's Class of Redeemer's Reformed Church for the bi-monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. on Monday.

A number of new books have been added to the Littlestown High School library, and among them are: "David Copperfield," "History of Great American Portunes," "Talebecken," "Thomas Jefferson," "Men to Watch My Mountains," "New Found World," "The Land They Fought For," "From Lexington to Liberty," "Introducing Africa" and "The F.B.I. Story."

The United Lutheran Church Women of St. John's Church met on Thursday evening at the church. Mrs. Harry O. Harner, May leader, was in charge of the devotion and introduced the topic "World Lutherans, Welcome to North America." Several members also participated in the topic discussion. There was a closing prayer and the missionary benediction in unison. A magazine quiz was conducted. Mrs. William C. Karns, president, presided at the business session and heard reports from the secretary, Mrs. Lloyd L. Stavelly, and treasurer, Mrs. Dale W. Starry. Preliminary plans were made for the annual thank offering service held in the fall. During the social

LANG-FLINN

R. 2, brother of the bride; Richard A. Keefe, R. 2, and Orest Holmmonsky, York.

Both Mrs. Flinn, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Lang, mother of the groom, wore street-length navy blue dresses with white accessories and pink rosebud corsage.
The Misses Mary Tauscher and Anna Eniger, both of Biglerville, R. 2, nieces of the groom, wore flower girls. They wore ice blue taffeta gowns fashioned with a scalloped overskirt and lace trim. They carried baskets of mixed spring flowers. Joseph A. Flinn, R. 5, cousin of the bride, was the ring-bearer.

Leave On Honeymoon

Spring flowers formed the floral decor on the altar. The traditional wedding march, "Pans Angelicus" and "Ave Maria" were played by the organist.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Lang left for a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. Mrs. Lang wore a two-piece pink sheath dress with white accessories. When they return the couple will reside at 832 West Princess St., York.

Mrs. Lang, who was employed before her marriage as a cashier at the W. T. Grant Co., is a graduate of Delone Catholic High School. Her husband, who received his schooling in Germany, is employed by the Medusa Cement Works, York.
Out-of-town guests from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Canada attended the wedding.

REDS ASK FOR END OF TESTS

MOSCOW (P)—The Supreme Soviet Friday called on the United States Congress and the British Parliament to work for immediate termination of nuclear weapons tests.

The Russian Parliament proposed establishment of a three-power parliamentary commission to exchange opinions and try to work out the best way to ban tests of hydrogen and atomic bombs.

As is usual, the legislators adopted the resolution without a murmur of dissent after hearing Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declare the Soviet Union would continue producing atomic and hydrogen bombs and guided missiles until the Western powers agree to discontinue their tests.

It was Gromyko's maiden speech as foreign minister in the Supreme Soviet.

"The United States and Britain would not object if the Soviet Union took the unilateral decision to stop tests," he said. "That is a little too much. That is impossible because it would jeopardize the security of the Soviet Union and increase the danger of atomic war. We want fair play."

Gromyko said it was premature to draw any conclusions about the outcome of disarmament talks in London, and that Russia was compelled to go on producing atomic weapons "because of the competition imposed by the aggressive circles of certain countries."

Vary that standard sugar-cookie recipe by adding two teaspoons of grated lemon rind and one teaspoon of lemon juice instead of vanilla or lemon extract usually called for.

Like brown gravy? Be sure to brown the flour before it is used for thickening the sauce.

ELKS' SERVICE PAYS TRIBUTE TO "MOTHERS"

"The woman, the mother, is the source of strength in the family, and thus in the community and the world," Rev. Fr. Alexius Arnoldin, assistant pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, said Sunday night at the annual Mother's Day observance held by Gettysburg Lodge 1045, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, at the lodge home on York St.

J. Russell Kane, exalted ruler of the lodge, conducted the opening ritual for the annual service. As they entered the lodge, members and guests were presented with carnations, white to those whose mothers are deceased, red to those whose mothers still live.

Fred G. Pfeffer, former Gettysburg burgess, gave the "Tribute to Mother." Exalted Ruler Kane, Leading Knight William C. Kuhn, Loyal Knight Charles R. Rupp, Lecturing Knight James G. Warren, and Esquire Donald E. Myers took part in the ritual honoring mothers.

Fr. Arnoldin spoke following two numbers by the Gettysburg High School choir under direction of Paul W. Grove. His talk was followed by additional numbers by the choir and the closing ritual in which, in addition to the other officers, Chaplain G. Noel Flynn participated.

The musical selections by the choir included "Song of Peace," Kalmanoff; "Lift Thine Eyes to the Mountains," Mendelssohn; "Mother," Morse; and "A Mother's Day Prayer," Thompson. Jon Wagnild and Ann Jordan were the accompanists.

"In 1950 I was traveling from Munich to Berlin," Fr. Arnoldin told the group. "The passenger beside me, a German woman, looking out at the rubble and destruction of war, held that the physical destruction was not the worst part."

MRS. C. B. SMITH EXPIRES AT 70

Mrs. Ethel A. Smith, 70, died at her home in York Springs Saturday evening at 9:40 o'clock from a complication of diseases. Her husband, Charles B. Smith, died 11 years ago.

Mrs. Smith was a daughter of the late Benjamin and Emma Trimmer Miller and was born in Huntingdon Twp. She had lived all her life in the York Springs section. She had been in failing health for the last two years.

She was a member of the York Springs Lutheran Church and Sunday School and of the Willing Workers of the church. She also was a member of the York Springs Fire Company Auxiliary.

Surviving are these children: Elmo and Clair, York Springs; John, York Springs R. 2; and Mrs. Harold Miller, York Springs. There are three brothers, L. J. Miller, Harrisburg; Abraham, Franklin Grove, Ill.; and Gilbert, York Springs R. 2, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Weaver, Gardeners. Eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pittenuff Funeral Home in York Springs with her pastor, the Rev. Norman L. Bortner, officiating. Interment in Sunnyside Cemetery, York Springs. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Birth Rate For April Shows Drop

Eighty-one births and 18 deaths occurred in the Gettysburg District during April, according to the report of the registrar of vital statistics for Gettysburg and Cumberland, Freedom, Straban and Highland Twp.

All of the births, 50 males and 31 females, occurred in Gettysburg. There were nine male and six female deaths in Gettysburg, one male death each in Cumberland and Freedom Twp. and a female death in Straban.

The record for April compares to 93 births and 18 deaths in the same month a year ago. So far this year there have been 373 births and 84 deaths in the Gettysburg district. During the same four month last year there were 375 births and 77 deaths.

IS OPERATED UPON

Mrs. C. Richard Wolff, 218 York St., underwent an operation for removal of a herniated disc at the Polyclinic Hospital in Harrisburg Wednesday. She is reported as "doing well" following the operation. She is a patient in room 384 there.

Kin Of Jenny Wade Visits Here Sunday

Jennie Wade's great-nephew Sunday visited for the first time the spot where his great aunt was killed during the Battle of Gettysburg, the only civilian fatality of the battle.

A/3c Delbert R. Raridan, Carroll, Iowa, currently stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va., spent the weekend with Burgess and Mrs. William G. Weaver to view the family ancestral home now known as the "Jennie Wade House."

His grandmother, Mrs. George Wade McClelland, resided at the small brick house on Baltimore St. at the time of the battle. Her sister, Jennie Wade, came to look after Mrs. McClelland and her infant. It was while baking bread for the McClelland family that Miss Wade was struck by a stray bullet and fatally injured.

The McClelland family moved to Iowa shortly after the Civil War, and the visit Sunday was the first to Gettysburg by the young airman.

SEVEN KNOUSE DRIVERS GIVEN SAFETY PRIZES

Knouse Foods truck drivers were honored Saturday at lunch in the Peach Glen plant cafeteria when seven of 11 fleet operators received special awards for driving from one to six years without a highway accident.

Herbert Kluck, Arendtsville, received a silver pin for driving approximately 500,000 miles in the past six years without being involved in a chargeable accident. He has been employed as a fleet driver since November, 1950.

Three-year bronze pins were presented to Kenneth Bigham, Gettysburg, and Robert Forsyth, Cash-town, and two-year awards were made to Albert Warner, Bendersville, and Joe Weaver, Gettysburg. Samuel Helsey, Biglerville, and Bruce Kline, Gardeners R. D., received one-year pins for highway safety.

Presentations were made by Robert H. Hunter, Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company, to the individual drivers.

Knouse Commends Drivers
M. E. Knouse, company president, commended the drivers on their safety records and reminded them that "you are Knouse Foods when you drive down the highways. The public bases its opinion of the company on the way you conduct yourselves on the roads, and we are proud of your records."

Following a film which emphasized the importance of good driving judgment and personal safety of drivers, Edward J. Nowicki Jr., production manager, said that the program developed in cooperation with PMA fleet safety engineers "has been successful because you men practice all the rules of highway courtesy and safety."

Other Knouse Foods personnel who addressed the group included plant manager Marcus O. Ritter, and fleet manager Luther A. Smith. Knouse Foods drivers deliver Lucky Leaf products through the New England and Middle Atlantic states, and travel approximately 500,000 highway miles annually.

PARROT TULIPS WIN TOP PRIZE AT BANK SHOW

Parrot tulips displayed by Mrs. A. W. Geigley, Virginia Mills, were judged the most outstanding exhibit in the annual Flower Show of the Gettysburg National Bank which was held Saturday. Judges called Mrs. Geigley's display as "the most magnificent collection of parrot tulips we have ever seen."

Mrs. Geigley also won a first prize for the best display in the tulip division of the show. Mrs. Sterling Sell, Arendtsville, took second prize and H. G. Hamme, Gettysburg, placed third.

Mr. Geigley took first prize for pansies with second place going to Mrs. Truman Eyer, Gettysburg, and third, George A. Sachs, Gettysburg. Mrs. Geigley also took first prize in the "any other garden flower" division. Isaac Ripley, Aspers, was second, and Mrs. Carl Oyler, Gettysburg, placed third.

Other Awards
A viburnum shown by Mrs. Paul Singmaster, Gettysburg, took first prize as the best flowering shrub or tree. A spirea shown by Mrs. Robert Kennel, Gettysburg R. 5, placed second and a Bechtel Crab entered by Ernest C. Shultz, Cash-town, placed third.

Mrs. P. J. McGlynn, Biglerville, captured first prize for the best arrangement of spring flowers. Frederick Hughes, Gettysburg, was second and Cleo Hossler, Cashtown, was third.

COUPLE IS WED SUNDAY AT 3

Miss Miriam Grace Klinefelter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Klinefelter, New Oxford R. 2, was married Sunday afternoon to Leonard L. Shearer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Credon L. Shearer, of Hanover. The Rev. N. H. Andres, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony in the Reformed Church, Hanover, at 3 p.m.

The bride wore a white street-length dress trimmed in lace, white accessories and a yellow cymbidium orchid corsage. There were no attendants.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to an unannounced destination they will reside at the home of the groom's parents.

Mrs. Shearer who is a graduate of New Oxford High School and Thompson Business College, is employed as a secretary at the Aero-Oil Company, New Oxford.

Her husband, a graduate of Eisenhower Senior High School, formerly attended Thompson Business College. He served for four years in the United States Air Force. He is currently associated with the family florist business.

Purloined Pies Pose Problem For Police

Pies posed a police problem Saturday noon. Borough police reported that Max Sites, Fairfield R. 1, a bakery driver, left 19 pies, as ordered, for a Thomas Brothers Store delivery man to pick up at the Buller Hole in the SCA building on the campus.

Sites then left and a caterer furnishing food for the Pennsylvania Dutch Folklore meeting at the college happened by, saw the pies, and thought they included seven that he had ordered, and removed that many.

Between that time and the time the Thomas Brothers man arrived the pie was further decimated. In fact, according to police, only three pies remained when the man who was to get 19 originally arrived.

ACCEPTS NEW PASTORATE

Rev. Arthur W. Bloom, pastor of Duke Street Methodist Church, York, for three years, will become minister of Bedford Hills Methodist Church, Bedford Hills, N. Y., about June 1, it was announced Sunday. His residence work for a degree of master of sacred theology at Lutheran Theological Seminary was completed during his assignment in York. Mrs. Bloom was graduated from Gettysburg College in June, 1955, and is a substitute teacher in York city schools.

President And His Guest From England

DR. RILEY IS SPEAKER FOR HOLY NAME UNIT

Dr. Joseph H. Riley, Gettysburg dentist, was the speaker Sunday morning at a Mother's Day Communion breakfast held by the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Catholic Church and the Hanover Knights of Columbus at the Hotel Richard McAllister, Hanover, with 130 present. Dr. Riley is grand knight of the Gettysburg Knights of Columbus.

Using as his theme a quotation from Abraham Lincoln: "All that I am or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother," Dr. Riley said the Knights of Columbus came into existence to help mothers, "Holy Mother church allowed Father Michael J. McGivney, then a young curate at St. Mary's Catholic Church, New Haven, Conn., to organize a charter on March 29, 1882, for a protective insurance society that there might be funds for the widows and mothers of deceased men of the parish, that the mothers might continue to care for their children. The Knights of Columbus has spread far and now has more than 1,000,000 members in 3,900 councils in various parts of the world, and it carries on many activities, but one of its principal objectives is still to help the mother and family."

"One of the greatest American mothers was Mary Elizabeth Ann Bayley Seton, who established the Sisters of Charity in America at Emmitsburg. She is a challenge to all mothers of the 20th century."

ANCIENT AUTOS MAKE TOUR OF 'FIELD SUNDAY

Forty-five ancient cars chugged over the Battlefield Sunday during the annual Gettysburg Tour of the Gettysburg Region of the Antique Automobile Association of America.

The group held a competition, touring the battlefield against a set time. Edward C. Beard, E. Lincoln Ave., and Austin Ruth, Hanover, co-chairmen for the tour, traveled over the battlefield prior to the arrival of the other members, establishing a course which they traveled in one hour, 37 minutes and ten seconds in a 1932 Cadillac.

Starting at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon the 45 ancient cars were dispatched at 2-minute intervals from Longstreet's headquarters on W. Confederate Ave. to follow the trail that led to the Round Tops, then to the National Cemetery, from there to Spangler's Spring and then to the Peace Light and finally back to the starting place.

1920 Model Wins

Earl Becker, York, in a 1920 Franklin, won first honors, completing the course within two minutes of the set time. Paul Seabrook, Fairfield, was second with a 1921 Chevrolet Commercial vehicle, which made the tour within four minutes of the allotted time. Two vehicles were tied for third place, Sterling Walsh, Greenmount, Md., driving a 1904 Oldsmobile and Paul Ansley St. Thomas, in a 1900 DeDion Bouton, both of whom were within six minutes of the allotted time.

Next activities of the Gettysburg Region organization will be held next Saturday when the owners will have their ancient cars at the Mechanicsburg Naval Ordnance Depot from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. as part of the Armed Forces Day program there.

May 25 and 26 the Gettysburg Region members will display their cars at an exhibit at the York Fairgrounds being held by the West York Lions for the benefit of the Crippled Children's activities in the area. The participation will include a parade and banquet on May 25.

Many Summer Events

June 1 the group will travel to Abington, Pa., for the annual June fete held by the auxiliary of the Abington Memorial Hospital.

June 9 the Gettysburg Region will be host to other regions of the Antique Automobile Association at Williams Grove. Last year 215 ancient cars were gathered for that program.

June 15 the members will attend the National Automobile Association of American convention at Pottstown and June 21, 22 and 23 they will take part in the annual "Shore Run" to Ocean City and Cape May.

Climb Battlefield Tower

When Ike passed a long column of souvenirs and saw a display of new "Ike and Mamie" plates, he stopped, laughed and said: "Well, I've never seen those before."

From the museum the party drove to Culp's Hill where the two men climbed 60 steps to the fourth landing to get a good view of the field. They studied a map on the landing and back on the ground they read the inscription on the monument for the XII Corps, Battery K, 5th U. S. Artillery.

At an equestrian statue Monty asked George Allen: "Are the spurs on correctly?" and Allen said they were.

From Culp's Hill the party drove to Bloody Angle where they walked to the equestrian statue of George G. Meade and studied and read the inscription closely.

President Eisenhower remarked on how young were the generals in the battle. He said Lee was 57 and

President

Meade 42. He told of Meade's services and both men agreed that Meade was not fully acquainted with the battle strategy or the entire situation because he had been in command of the Army only two days.

"When I took command in Europe I was older than most of the generals of the Civil War," the President said, adding that "times have changed on the concept of age in the military."

Had Wonderful Time
After Montgomery read the inscription he said "a northerner must have written that."

The two great military leaders and friends were having a wonderful time and thoroughly enjoyed every minute. They didn't mind walking through the wet grass to the Meade statue. They got their feet good and wet and their trousers were soaked half-way to their knees. They drove to Little Round Top where they discussed the strategy there. Ike explained the situation to Monty and they walked all around the rocks and to the ledge overlooking the rocky slope to get a better view of the terrain.

President Avoids "Trap"
At the Virginia Memorial where Monty was so anxious to go, he outlined briefly what he would have done instead of the Pickett's Charge strategy: "I would have thrown a right hook around Little Round Top where you had plenty of cover. I would have used a little feint here to draw the Union's attention."

The reporters turned to the President and asked "Do you go along with that theory?" The President laughed and started to walk away: "Oh, no you don't get me into that. Look, I live around here, with the North and the South," he added.

Monty said: "Meade didn't make use of his cavalry. He sort of messed around."
Eisenhower said: "There were some of the finest troop movements in military history here but everything seemed to break to pieces on co-ordination, unfortunately of the South."

The President said Stuart let Lee down because of "his love for head-lines."
Puzzled By Strategy
As the two men looked over the mile long open field across which Pickett made his fatal charge the President remarked:

"Why have to charge across that field I'll never know... I guess he got so mad he wanted to hit them with a brick."
Montgomery called it "monstrous." It was then ten minutes after ten o'clock and the Presidential party turned to the farm where the President changed from a brown sports jacket and tan slacks to a dark, almost black suit, white shirt, dark tie, and black shoes. Accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower the party then drove to the Presbyterian Church for Mother's Day services.

Mrs. Eisenhower wore a white flowered dress, and a long dark cape. She wore a red carnation on her cape.
Greeted By Burgess
Montgomery wore a dark grey, mixed double-breasted suit, light blue shirt and tie, and vest. A blue and white handkerchief stuck out of his breast pocket and a gold chain stretched across his vest. He wore a yellow gold ring on his left little finger.

After the church services they drove to the Diorama where they were greeted by Burgess William G. Weaver.
Saturday morning they drove to the farm from the airport and a few minutes later drove around the Battlefield, inspected the Eternal Light Peace Memorial and the British-made breech-loading guns. They drove around the Round Tops, Devil's Den and the Wheatfield and then to George Allen's farm.

Birthday Dinner Tonight
Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, arrived at the farm at 4 p.m.

This evening there will be a birthday dinner for Mrs. Doud who is 79 years old today.
The President will return to Washington after dinner. Montgomery returned at 11 o'clock this morning by air.

The Presidential party arrived at the Presbyterian Church a few minutes before the hour for the service and were shown to their reserved post by Chellis S. Overcash, post usher. Dr. Milton Stokes, one of the ushers for the day, removed the white satin ribbon that had reserved the pew, just back of the Lincoln pew, for the presidential party.

In his prayer, the Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, conducting his second service since assuming the pastorate of the local church, asked God's blessing "on our nation, the President of the United States and on all others in authority here and throughout the world."

"A Model Mother"
The scripture reading was from I Samuel 2:1-10 and 18-21, and the Rev. Mr. MacAskill delivered his Mother's Day sermon on the theme, "A Model Mother." Emphasizing the central role of mothers in the home and in making homes Christian, the minister pointed to Hannah, the mother of Samuel, "who by her character and conduct set an example of what motherhood ought to be."

Pointing out that Hannah mingled "tears with her prayers," the Rev. Mr. MacAskill listed two characteristics that make her an ideal mother: "Her life was God-centered and she was child-centered. She was a godly, devout praying mother and the secret of the beauty and strength of her character was that

The "Acroaters," comprised of Connie Stallsmith, Biglerville, and Ronnie and Dolores Orner, Benderville, and who are members of Ron Drake and his WHP-TV "Stars of Tomorrow," entertained the Newville Lions Club at Big Springs High School, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, Columbiana, Ohio, spent the week-end with the latter's mother, Mrs. W. C. Weaver, Aspers R. 1.

The Trilogy Club will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. B. Romig, Camp Hill.

Mrs. Charles B. Weber, Clark Summit, is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Slaybaugh, Biglerville R. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Redman, Amherst, Mass., left today after spending a week with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Asquith, and family, Biglerville.

The second consecration service will be held in the Bendersville Methodist Church Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Nelson Frank, a former pastor of the Bendersville Church and now pastor of the Chambersburg Methodist Church, will preach. The Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble and Rev. William Jay will participate in the service. Class 3 will serve tea in the Sunday School room following the service. All who attend will have an opportunity to inspect the renovations just completed. The public is invited.

The Young Men's Sunday School Church, Bendersville, will sponsor a roast beef supper at the Bendersville Community Hall on May 25 from 4 to 8 p.m. The supper will be served family style. The price is $1.25 for adults and 65 cents for children. Earl Starner, Marshall Kuntz and Leroy Routsong comprise a general committee in charge of the supper.

The South Mountain Rangers Riding Club, Inc., will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at White Horse Stables, York Springs. All members and persons interested in horses are urged to attend.

The Christian Fellowship Sunday School Class of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, Biglerville, will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Heishman, Carlisle, entertained at dinner on Sunday Mrs. Heishman's grandmother, Mrs. Annie By, Benderville; Eugene and Carl Howe, York Springs, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howe and daughter, Cynthia, Gettysburg.

God was at the center of her life. She was a guide and inspiration for modern mothers. She devoted the most of her time to the training and teaching of her son, Samuel.

He spoke, too, of the mother of John and Charles Wesley, the mother of Augustine, Lincoln and Dwight L. Moody as "mothers who put first things first." "Nothing can compare with the influence of a Christian mother for the parental obligation is a sacred trust," he said.

After the service, the new pastor greeted the President and his party and walked to the door of the church with them where photographers were waiting. As the President, Mrs. Eisenhower and Montgomery left the church, there was applause from the crowd of several hundred gathered outside.

President Eisenhower played a round of golf this afternoon at the Gettysburg Country Club.

Accompanying the President were Gen. Arthur S. Nevins, George Allen, two personal friends and Gordon Moore, a brother-in-law.

Littlestown CROWN STATUE DURING MAY PROCESSION

A statue of the Blessed Mother was crowned Queen of the May, when the annual May procession was held in St. Aloysius Catholic Church last evening, attended by a capacity congregation. Miss Mary Catherine Staveland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Staveland Jr., W. King St., was chosen from the girls of the First Communion Class to have the honor of crowning the Blessed Mother.

The procession left the school and continued around the church grounds, and included the cross bearer, Bernard Stuller; acolytes, John Rang and Donald Bevenour; the girls of the school in white dresses and floral wreaths; the boys of the school; the children of the First Communion Class, all in white dresses and veils and white suits; Miss Staveland and her attendants, who included Rosalie Sanders as crown bearer, Sylvia Bunty and Joyce Rang, ribbon bearers; the first grade flower girls, Deborah Rohrbach, Judy Riley, Helen Smith, Phyllis Prock, Michelle O'Donnell and Janice Harner; the altar boys and the pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle.

The procession moved as the group sang "Ave Maria." The girls taking special part in the crowning were led to the altar by Robert Collins and William Eisenhart, wearing white suits and blue capes, the Blessed Mother's colors, and bearing candles. The group approached the altar while the children sang "Hail Virgin Dearest Mary" and, after presenting the crown of flowers for the pastor's blessing, Mary Catherine placed it on the statue of the Blessed Mother, which was the center of a pastel flower-decked candle-lit shrine, as the words, "We haste to crown thee now," were sung. The Act of Consecration to the Blessed Mother was said by Susan Todd.

Father Boyle Speaks
Father Boyle spoke concerning the Mother of God, noting: "Only those who never honor Mary think of her as a god; we honor her because she is the Mother of God and because He honors her, Himself proclaiming her as Queen of Heaven." The remainder of the service consisted of the hymn, "Remember Holy Mary," by the school children; devotions in honor of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, concluding with "Holy God."

Twenty-five children were registered for the first grade for the fall term at St. Aloysius Parochial School on Sunday morning. Several additional registrations are expected to be received. Father Boyle announced that a total of $223 had been given to the special offering last Sunday for the Medical Missionaries of Mary, and a letter of thanks was read to the congregation. An offering for the parish cemetery upkeep will be received at the morning masses next Sunday.

There will be religious instruction for high school students at 7 o'clock this evening and at 8 o'clock for the adult students. The St. Aloysius Parish of Council Women and the evening's guests, who include graduates of the parochial school, those of the parish graduating from the local high school and Delone, and their mothers, will have a covered

By BEN BURKHOUGH
"NATURE'S SWEET SONG"

There's a small patch of woods where the birds sing all day... while a crystal-clear brook runs along... and I'm always amazed at the harmony of... the birds and the brook's tender song... other magical sounds give enchanting support... to the melody Dame Nature weaves... there is beauty untold as the breeze gently sighs... while embracing the rustling leaves... wild life too lend their voices, for they must be heard... they join in the chorus sublime... such wonderful melody I am quite sure... will live on and on for all time... there is peaceful contentment in Nature's sweet song... wonderful are the lyrics she sings... such is the music I hear in the woods... as the Master of life plucks the strings.

TELLS OF BEING BURIED ALIVE FOR 74 HOURS

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (AP)—"I could see the slate falling like big hunks of paper with black dust pouring out and I said, 'Lord, nobody can stop it but You. If You don't, I'm a goner.'"

That was William C. Richmond talking, telling how it feels to be buried alive for 74 hours in a cold, lightless coal mine of central West Virginia.

The 38-year-old coal miner, working only his eighth shift when the accident happened, rested in his hospital bed today. He was weak with exhaustion but Dr. J. R. Glasscock said he was in excellent condition otherwise.

Trapped Behind Fall
Richmond and four other miners were working in the Donegan Coal and Coke Co.'s Donegan mine about 18 miles from here Wednesday night when a creaking noise warned of a roof fall.

Four men ran toward the main entry and safety. Richmond didn't make it. Hundreds of tons of rock and slate thundered into a nine-foot area, blocking the entry.

Richmond was trapped between the face of the coal and the fall. Nobody knew it until Saturday night, when rescue workers heard sounds from behind the fall.

Without Food, Water
Richmond's wife and seven children came over from Rupert to visit him yesterday. His wife, expecting an eighth child, said:

"If he was safe and sound, the Lord had a hand in it."

Richmond was without food, water or light until rescuers reached him early yesterday.

50 SCOUTS ARE INVESTED HERE

More than 50 Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts, members of Troop and Pack 78, were invested in Scouting at a special service held at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church Sunday evening.

Rev. Fr. Alexius Arnoldin, assistant pastor of the church, who serves as the institutional representative for the Scout units, officiated at the service at which the Scouts and Cubs were presented with their neckerchiefs symbolic of their acceptance of Scouting responsibilities.

In unison the Scouts recited the Scout Law and the "Scouts' Prayer to the Boy Jesus" for grace to follow the example of Christ as a child.

Praising the Scouts and their leaders, "especially, on this day, the valiant den mothers," Fr. Arnoldin told the group, "Our work should be guided by prayer and trust in God. Whatever success we may achieve comes as a gift of God. We should pray for success in Scouting, and for all our civic activities, whether it be with cancer drives, Red Cross or whatever. We should approach all of the tasks and responsibilities of our daily life with prayer, with knowledge that all success in all activities come from God."

Recitation of the Rosary and benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament followed the investiture ceremony.

for it could be repaired. The greatest lament was the toll of the war on women in Germany, that before the war the housewife was the strength of Germany and now weakness and moral breakdown could be seen.

The Challenge To Mothers
"The role of woman, especially of woman in the home, is of tremendous importance, yet there are attempts to undermine that role in our country. Much of the strength, the power and energy of the family is in the hands of the mother. Hers is a labor of love, of care, guidance, inspiration and example. Hers is the role of transmitting courage, prayer and faith that influences her children for the rest of their lives. Her role, by Divine Providence, rests on her shoulders as a tremendous responsibility. If today mothers are lauded, it is because they have met the responsibility that is theirs."

"Our country will be strong as the family is strong. The family will be strong as the mother is strong. We live, by the providence of God, in a country showered with blessings. We live in a country that has a duty to be a model to the world. Since the mothers' place and responsibility is to mold the family, since the families make up the nation, then this is a challenge to the mothers of America, a challenge which must be met if we wish for our country to demonstrate to the world nobility, devotion and love."

SEMINARY BIDS ARE TABULATED
A Baltimore contractor was the apparent low bidder when bids were opened last Thursday on the construction of a seminary addition at St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

The low of seven bids appeared to have been submitted by Henry A. Knott. The base bid of this firm was $334,670, with amounts for two alternates which could make the final total $364,520. He listed 300 days as the time of completion.

The next lowest bidders were also Baltimore contractors. Piracci Construction Company submitted a base bid of $336,500, with alternates which could run the final figure to $366,200. He listed time of completion as 360 days.

Lawrence Construction Company handed in a base bid of $337,373, with the alternate figures which could make the final total $373,747. He offered to complete the job in 300 days.

Ruppert and May, of Washington, are the architects for the project. There was no immediate announcement about a contract award.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
There was a very destructive fire in the South Mountain last Sunday, continuing until Monday, a strong wind prevailing all of the time. It swept everything before it, we learn, from Mr. Chamberlain's in Franklin township to Myer's Mill in Hamilton township. We have heard that several buildings were burned, but are not able to give particulars. The appearance of the fire from this place, Sunday night, was terribly sublime.

Rabid Abolitionism: The Anti-Slavery society held their anniversary in New York on Tuesday week. — Wm. Lloyd Garrison presided. The resolutions adopted were of the usual character. They were in favor of immediate liberation of the slaves in the South or secession and disunion, advising the Republican party to war on the "institution" in South Carolina, as well as in Kansas; pronouncing secession a high moral duty; and reading southern Christians out of church, wholesale and retail. The speeches were in strict keeping with these incendiary sentiments. Such violence only injures the cause which they pretend to favor.

Barn Burnt: The barn of Mr. Henry Spangler, near New Chester, in this county, was struck by lightning on Friday afternoon week, and burned. The loss besides the barn is trifling. No insurance.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson, principal of the Alexander High School at Monrovia, Africa, who returned to this place a short time ago, with his family, on account of ill health, has left again for the scene of his labors, his family remaining here. He sailed from Baltimore on Thursday last.

J. A. Grimes has sold his store at White Hall to Jacob J. and Albert H. Parr. Mr. Grimes has purchased from John Hartman the house and lot on Baltimore street, this place, now occupied by Mr. Ruff.

Improvements: Jeremiah W. Diehl, Cumberland township, has repainted his residence (formerly the Reynolds Hotel), put a handsome yard in front and otherwise improved the place. David Schriver, same township, has also repainted and much improved his residence.

Mr. Blaine Coming: By the following telegram from Hon. Edward McPherson, it will be seen that ex-Secretary Blaine will certainly be in Gettysburg Decoration Day.
Washington D. C., D. A. Buehler, Esq.: — James G. Blaine positively accepts and will be in Gettysburg on Decoration Day. Edward McPherson.

D. Sullivan has improved his dwelling in this place by putting in new windows and blinds and repairing the portion.

Dr. A. P. Beaver has put up a very convenient stable on his lot and is making preparations for his new house.

Today's Talk

SECURITY WITHIN
Fears, anxiety and disappointments are largely concerned with material things. They do not bring inward security, fears and their associated kinds do not easily exist. They are crowded out.

With this inward security—self-confidence, enthusiasm, faith in a higher power than ourselves—there is a spirit that takes possession of us, relaxing and giving to us inward peace, which in itself is security.

As Emerson so simply put it, "we are born to victory" and so need this inward security to put light and hope into our lives, and make us happily influence the lives of others. Nothing is quite so inspiring as to give a spiritual lift to others. That's the main reason why we were given life in the first place.

When we put heart into all that we do, being good workers, and happy ones, all the mental and spiritual processes of our being are fortified and we work with courage, patience and selflessness. I like to read books, and talk with people who are good for me, like healthy exercise and pleasant surroundings. A kind and generous heart warms each day for us like the rays of sunshine that give life to both nature and man.

It is an inspiring thing to have the U. S. coins with the words "In God We Trust" in our pockets, but a better place for them is in our minds and hearts, for then they give to us the knowledge that a nation is great—a nation whose God is the Lord! This alone has a security within that is not matched by any security in armaments, no matter how vast and efficient.

If nations could only turn to moral armaments all other means for security would become archaic! How can we look upon nations as civilized when they choose wars when in trouble?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Say Good Things".

Just Folks

NEGLECT
On the very rare occasions when I venture out to dine
My wants are few and simple—maybe seven or eight, or nine.
I like to have the waiter or the waitress smile at me
And not rush by my table as though there we shouldn't be.

When my guests and I are seated I like someone to inquire—Before waiting thirty minutes—if there's something we desire. I'm a patient sort of fellow, but when they go sweeping by I wonder why they never seem on me to cast an eye.

I know the waiter business is at times a wearying task;
But "Can I get you something?" doesn't take much time to ask.
But after we're been seated and we're read the bill of fare, We'd like to have our dinner.
That's the reason we are there.

TEXAS TOWN IS HIT BY FLOOD AS LEVEE SNAPS

LAMPASAS, Tex. (AP)—A wall of water cascaded into this central Texas city today when a levee broke under the strain of two rain-swollen creeks.

The entire business district was flooded, between 50 and 100 homes were knocked off their foundations and hundreds of persons were homeless. Red Cross disaster headquarters were established. The surging waters of Burleson and Sulphur creeks swept into the city's business district last night after torrential rains up to 6.50 inches soaked the area, some 50 miles west of Temple. Later they began to recede as the rain let up.

Millions In Damage
Destruction was expected to run into millions of dollars.

Ward Lowe, publisher of the Lampasas Dispatch, said one person was known to have drowned. Another woman was missing after she was washed off a truck to which she had been clinging.

All power was knocked out. Telephone lines were out except for one emergency phone.

The sheriff's office and fire department were inundated and water ran four and five feet deep in the town square.

Some 30 to 35 persons were trapped in the downtown area.

Flash Floods At Dallas
The flood came after a new outburst of violent weather rainstorms and tornadoes in storm-battered Texas. At least three persons were drowned in other areas.

Flash floods at Dallas closed 100 streets last night and forced the evacuation of an estimated 100 families after a 5-inch cloud-burst. The runoff sent the Trinity River on a new rise that was expected to hit 35 or 36 feet today, four or five feet higher than the present level.

The Red Cross reopened its disaster relief shelter in Dallas that was set up during the earlier floods.

Flood warnings were issued for Georgetown, 28 miles north of Austin.

FROSH DEATH STIRS CORNELL TO STIFF CODE

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—A series of campus accidents, including one that was fatal to a freshman, has resulted in an order for a new and stiffer code governing house-party weekends at Cornell University.

President Deane W. Malott of Cornell told student leaders yesterday they must put the new code into effect before the "Fall Weekend," usually held in late October or early November.

Malott acted after the death early yesterday of Frederick J. Nowicki, 19, a freshman from Yonkers, and what the university described as "a series of accidents, law violations and numerous instances of misbehavior" during the "Spring Weekend."

Nowicki was injured fatally when he fell from the second-story porch of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity house about 5:30 a.m. He died at the university infirmary about 8:10 a.m.

Dr. Ralph J. Low, Tompkins County coroner, issued a verdict of accidental death.

Stephen J. Sinden, 19, of State College, Pa., was reported in critical condition yesterday of injuries suffered May 4 in the fall from a window at the Sigma Pi fraternity house. He suffered a concussion, internal injuries and a broken right arm.

Sinden had been changing records on a phonograph near the window when he fell out. Lowell George, a proctor, said the window sill was about eight inches from the floor.

Closer inspection showed that the motorist, eager to keep on the good side of the law, had mistaken a Junior Chamber of Commerce promotion card under the windshield wiper for a ticket.

Police decided to turn the money over to the Jaycees.

Three Kings

Baghdad Pact against communism is a major sore spot in Iraq-Egypt relations. Egypt's President Nasser advocates a policy of what he calls "positive neutralism" between East and West but has made his country dependent on the Soviet bloc for arms supplies and much trade.

The official Jordan radio Saturday night accused Egypt and Syria of joining the Soviet Union in a conspiracy "prepared by agents of international communism" to overthrow the rulers of Jordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Libya.

Hussein had blamed a plot by international communism against his monarchy when he proclaimed martial law at the height of the political turmoil in his country last month. The purported details were printed in the independent Amman newspaper Al Urdon and stamped with official approval by the government radio's broadcast.

The conspiracy's aim, the story said, was to establish republics in the four countries under Egypt's leadership.

Chambersburg Cops South Penn Track Title; Warriors Fifth; Keefer, Little Snare Firsts

For the first time in history a new school — Chambersburg — has won the annual South Penn Conference track meet. The meet was held Saturday afternoon on the Gettysburg College athletic field.

The Trojans breezed home a comparatively easy winner in piling up 60 points to far out-distance the defending champion, Carlisle, who finished second with 37½.

Prior to Saturday's meet only Gettysburg, Hanover and Carlisle had gained titles. The Gettysburg Warriors finished fifth with 27 points.

Team scoring follows: Chambersburg, 60; Carlisle, 37½; Hanover, 34; Waynesboro, 27½; Gettysburg, 27; Hershey, 26; Middletown, 10; Mechanicsburg and Shippensburg, 0.

Set New Mark
One new record was set, Chambersburg 880-yard relay team winning that event in 1:34.3. The former record was 1:37.7 and was set by Carlisle in 1953.

Ken Keefer was the big gun for the Warriors, coping the 180 low hurdles, placing second in the 220 and third in the 100. He tied his own record in the low hurdles trials at 21.1 and then won the final in 21.5.

Earl Little took the broad jump with 20 feet 2½ inches and was fifth in the 100-yard dash.

Other Warrior points came from the following: George McPeaters, fifth in the mile; Ken Mummett, third in the 120 high hurdles; Charles Fair, fifth in the high hurdles; Sidney Steinhour, fifth in the javelin; mile relay, third.

Relay Disqualification
Hanover High's mile relay team was disqualified and Hershey was moved to first place when a Night-hawk paced the Hanover anchor man, Fred Stauffer, who was first to the ribbon.

Demaret Wins $20,000 Open

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—The numerous talented youngsters who have flocked to professional golf in the past few years still have trouble with a sharp old pro like Jimmy Demaret.

Demaret, 46, was almost flawless on and around the greens yesterday as he posted a five-under-par 67 to take first money in the $20,000 Hot Springs Open.

The dapper one, this time attired in a plain white shirt and not-so-plain pink trousers, spotted stocky young Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., two strokes and 16 years as the final round got under way.

Demaret's 73-66-70-67-276, 12 strokes under par, beat Souchak and four others by one stroke. His 66 on the tricky, 7,000-yard Hot Springs Country Club course here was the best of the tournament.

Bunched with Souchak, who had a final 70, were Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., the 1956 winner, who fired a 68; Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., 68; Johnny Palmer of Tulsa, Okla., 67, and Jackie Burke of Kiamasha Lake, 68.

Bucknell Holds Onto Golf Title

MOUNT UNION, Pa.—Bucknell University is still team champion of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference Golf Tournament.

Bucknell retained the title Saturday by finishing five strokes ahead of Lehigh at the American Legion Country Club course here. Those two teams topped a record field of 17 colleges.

Hofstra, of Long Island, N.Y., captured third.

Bucknell's John Dunn took medalist honors over Leslie Norbury, of Lehigh, in an extra hole playoff after shooting 149s for 36 holes.

Richard Burdgon, the Central Pennsylvania amateur champion from Franklin and Marshall, took third with 151. Pete Foley was fourth with 154.

Only in the all events bracket was there a change. Ted Hoffman Sr., of Philadelphia, moved into second place with a 1,985, displacing John Gladara, Pittsburgh, into third with 1,998.

SMITH WARNS PHILLIES CAN CAUSE TROUBLE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mayo Smith, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, says he's "not kidding" himself about his team.

"If these kids hold up we'll give them all a lot of trouble," Smith said. "If they don't, I don't know. We'll then have to settle for fourth, I guess."

In an interview by sports editor Al Abrams of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Smith identified the "kids" as: pitchers Jack Sanford and Don Cardwell, first baseman Ed Bouchee and outfielders Harry Anderson and Bob Bowman.

Fernandez Is Key Man
"Credit the farm system or call it luck, whatever you wish," said Smith. "These youngsters, especially Sanford and Cardwell, have been wonderful."

"Sanford," Smith explained, "has kicked around in our farm system for years. He finally found himself. Cardwell came up from Miami. He's 22 and has a great pitching future ahead of him. As for the others, I'm hoping they can keep the pace they've been setting."

Smith said the key man on the Phillies is Chico Fernandez, acquired in a trade with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"We had a terrible infield last year," Smith said. "We had to do something, and fast, about getting a shortstop. Roy Hamey made a great deal when he got us Fernandez. You don't know how much he has steadied our infield."

Smith was asked about reports that the Phillies are getting ready to make a trade with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"We haven't come close to making a deal with Pittsburgh," he replied. "In fact, we haven't talked much about one."

"Not Jones"
"I'll tell you something, though," he added. "We're the only club the Pirates can deal with as far as I can see. Milwaukee, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and St. Louis appear set. I doubt if they'll do much trading. New York and Chicago have nothing to offer. That leaves Pittsburgh and Philadelphia."

Smith said he would be interested in obtaining outfielder Bill Virdon and pitcher Roy Face from the Pirates.

"I read in your Pittsburgh Papers where I'll give the Pirates Harvey Haddix and Willie Jones or Rip Repinski," Smith said. "I might—but not Jones."

CORNELL MAY SWEEP ROWING HONORS FOR '57

ITHACA, N. Y.—Off its great performance in the Carnegie Cup regatta, Cornell's veteran crew appeared ready for another sweep of the Eastern Sprint and Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. championships.

The Big Red all-senior eight, only unbeaten crew left in the east, whipped hitherto undefeated Yale in the Carnegie Cup two-miler on Cayuga Saturday, and will be favored to do it again in the sprint championship at Princeton's Lake Carnegie next Saturday.

Cornell, winner of the Eastern Sprints and IRA titles last year but beaten by Yale in the Olympic trials, gained a measure of revenge in its record-breaking triumph on Cayuga. True, the Yales only had four rowers and the coxswain back from the Olympic championship eight, but the impressive one-length win helped save the Big Red's wounded feelings.

Same Cornell Boatload
The Cornell boatload is virtually the same which won the IRA trophy race three years ago.

Struck by rangy Phil Gravink of Olymper, N. Y., Cornell skinned over the flat, untruffled lake on a windless, cloudy day in 9:58.2, nine seconds faster than the lake mark set by Cornell's junior varsity in 1955.

Yale, which blew the race by a bad start, also broke the record with 10:02.2, and all four crews snapped the Carnegie Cup mark of 10:23.4 for Cayuga. Princeton was third in 10:12 with Syracuse's sophomore-dominated shell fourth in 10:17.4.

In other eastern action last weekend, Rutgers beat Columbia and MIT in that order on the New York Harlem River. Harvard scored by a deck-length over Navy and Pennsylvania—another deck-length behind—in the Adams Cup on the Schuylkill at Philadelphia, and Dartmouth and Boston University wound up in a dead heat of a mile and five-sixteenths battle at Dartmouth in 7:01.8.

Grid Mentor Dies On Sunday

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.—The two men who probably knew him best joined today in paying tribute to former Fordham University football star Len Eshmont, University of Virginia backfield coach who died yesterday in the university hospital.

Virginia Coach Ben Martin, who brought Eshmont with him when he came to Charlottesville as head football coach in 1936, lauded Eshmont for "high courage and great strength."

Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz, who launched Eshmont's career as a coach when he brought him to Annapolis as an assistant in 1950, called him "a fine fellow... a real competitor."

Eshmont, 39, died of a liver ailment and complications. He had been a patient at the hospital since Feb. 13 and less than two weeks ago underwent major surgery.

A star halfback for Fordham in 1938, 1939 and 1940, Eshmont played professional football for one year after graduation with the New York Giants. Eshmont was a native of Mt. Carmel, Pa.

Redlegs — Collected six hits in a 7-5, 7-1 doubleheader sweep over Chicago, boosting average to league-leading .396.

PITCHING — Tom Brewer, Red Sox — Held Washington to two hits in 10-0 victory in first game of doubleheader.

FOUR IN SEMI-FINALS
ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Bill Davidson of Penn State met Warren Simmons of Syracuse and Gerry Goring of Princeton took on Mike Driz of Syracuse today in semi-finals of the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Championships.

The four emerged with victories from first-round and quarter-final action yesterday. Finals were scheduled later today over the par-71, 6,519-yard Naval Academy course.

All home teams in the South Penn Baseball League were winners in Sunday's games.

Littlestown's unbeaten nine won its third straight by outslugging Hunterstown 13-10.

Brushtown also stayed undefeated when the umpire awarded it a 9-0 forfeit over Bonneauville in the eighth inning. According to reports, balls were being rolled onto the field by spectators interrupting play and the umpire halted the game and awarded the forfeit. At the time Brushtown was leading 7-1.

The best game of the day was played at Arendtsville where the home team nipped Mummasburg 4-2. It was a pitchers' duel all the way between Pitzer of Arendtsville and Slaybaugh of the losers. Singley homered for Mummasburg.

Harney went on a hitting spree to crush winless Greenmount 13-5.

KHRUSHCHEV GIVES IDEAS ON WAR PERIL

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times Saturday quoted Nikita Khrushchev as saying the surest way to avoid war between Communist and non-Communist nations is for America and Russia to find some common way to ease tensions.

The Soviet Communist party chief made the statement in an hour and 50 minute interview in Moscow with Times Managing Editor Turner Catledge who is on a tour of the newspaper's foreign bureaus.

Catledge said Khrushchev's views on this point were prompted by a question whether he favored another Big Four summit meeting.

Favors Meeting

Khrushchev said he decidedly favors such a meeting, but he insisted that the responsibility for a property in New Oxford.

"Aquacades" To Do Its 13th Season

NEW YORK (AP) — One of New York's longest-running summer-time outdoor shows has decided not to try its luck with a 13th season.

Elliott Murphy said that declining receipts made him decide against a new edition of "Aquacades" this year at the Flushing Meadow Park, which was the site of New York's World Fair in 1939.

New York's other big outdoor spectacular "Show Boat," will go on again however in the amphitheater at Jones Beach state park.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Jim Theiss, a University of Dayton junior, has found a peaceful place to study his part time job — and full time residence and study hall — while going to college is in a funeral parlor.

easing world tensions rested most heavily on the United States and Russia — "first and foremost on the United States."

The Times' dispatch from Moscow summed up the views expressed by Khrushchev on diverse subjects as follows:

Any Big Four parley should be carefully prepared in advance.

The question of Europe as the most important provoker of tensions is a "knot" that creates disputes.

JOHNSON SAYS IKE SHOULD BE CLEAR TO PUBLIC

By JACK HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) called on President Eisenhower today to make it clear in a TV-radio address "whether he wants an economy administration or a spending administration."

Johnson, Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview "the administration is speaking out of both sides of its mouth" on fiscal matters and Eisenhower himself ought to clear the matter up.

Eisenhower goes on the air tomorrow night to defend his $71,800,000,000 spending budget. Democrats are almost certain to ask for equal time to reply, but were reported undecided about their speaker.

Touched Off By Adams

Johnson's blast was touched off by a comment yesterday by Sherman Adams, chief presidential assistant, that the budget can be cut from 1 1/2 to 2 billion dollars without impairing government efficiency.

Adams, interviewed on a television program by Rep. Keating

(R-NY), did not specify whether he was referring to Eisenhower's spending budget or the $73,300,000,000 in new appropriations Eisenhower originally asked for the year starting July 1. Eisenhower already has suggested Congress could cut the new money about $1,300,000,000 and mentioned another 500 millions it might want to consider deferring until another year.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) referred to these figures in a weekend statement and said that in addition the administration has agreed not to ask Senate restoration of 546 million dollars cut by the House from money bills already handled. He said that added up to more than two billions already cut, and forecast further reductions.

Example Of Agreement

Describing Aams as "the very able and very authoritative chief of staff" for the White House, Johnson said this was another example of disagreement within the administration. Eisenhower himself has rejected the possibility of a two billion cut in his spending proposals.

Johnson listed what he said were conflicting statements on spending by Eisenhower, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Vice President Nixon and others.

Johnson said Congress "will listen carefully to the President's address tomorrow night in the hope that it will settle once and for all just exactly what the administration is recommending."

College Research Laboratories produced a gadget to waken the deaf mothers.

It's an electronic device that converts the slightest sound from the baby's crib into vibrations which the mother receives from an instrument under her bed pillow. A Service Club which sponsored the development lends the device on request.

Nice for a change — diced unpeeled red apple and finely diced celery add to green cabbage for slaw.

CHESSMAN CASE IS BEFORE HIGH COURT TODAY

By PAUL M. YOST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Caryl Chessman's nine-year fight to escape the San Quentin gas chamber goes before the Supreme Court for probably its last time today.

Chessman, whose books on life in a prison death cell helped to finance his many appeals, has said he will give up the battle if he loses this time.

The Supreme Court agreed to hear two hours of argument on whether there was fraud in the preparation of the official record of Chessman's 1948 trial.

He was convicted and sentenced then on charges of kidnapping and attempted assault in a lover's lane in Los Angeles.

George T. Davis, San Francisco attorney for Chessman, contends the transcript is "prejudicially incomplete and inadequate."

The trial court reporter died before he had transcribed all his notes. The job was finished by Stanley Fraser, a relative by marriage of the deputy district attorney who prosecuted Chessman.

"Missing from the record, or garbled in the transcript of it," says Davis, "were sections in which it should have affirmatively appeared that Chessman was convicted in violation of fundamental constitutional rights."

William M. Bennett, deputy attorney general of California, said in a reply brief that Chessman was entitled to no assistance from the Supreme Court.

"This litigant has been furnished hearings and reviews thus far without end," Bennett's brief said. "The hand of justice has been stayed time and again, if only to review questions already adjudicated or theories newly contrived."

Even if all the inaccuracies and omissions claimed by Chessman were allowed, Bennett said, the result of his appeals would not have been affected.

The first cathedral built on the mainland of the Americas was erected in 1510 at Santa Maria de la Antigua, Panama.

TRAIN RIDE IS WELCOME GIFT

KEENE, N. H. (AP)—A train ride was one of the nicest Mother's Day gifts Mrs. Eva Lambert, 59, could have received.

The train took her from Jacksonville, Fla., to Keene—a trip she had planned to make by hitchhiking in her wheel chair.

Mrs. Lambert, a victim of multiple sclerosis and heart trouble, was wheeling her chair 50 miles north of Jacksonville last week when she was spotted by James Woodhouse, 28.

She said her husband died three weeks ago and she was going back to Springfield, Vt., to sell the old family homestead.

Woodhouse bought the proud woman a train ticket and a white suitcase crated her two dogs and a cat and pinned a corsage of flowers on her for the ride north. She arrived at a friend's house here last night.

KILLED CHANGING TIRE
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A young man from Chester, Pa., was struck and killed here last night on the Black Horse Pike as he was changing a tire on his own vehicle.

The victim was identified as William H. Zimmer Jr., 20, 226 E. 14th St., Chester. The accident occurred near Weymouth.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Work had started on a tracking station near here for the earth satellite scheduled to be launched next summer as part of the 1958-59 International Geophysical Year research.

13 Killed In 1957 Renewal Of Great European Open Road Race

BRESCIA, Italy (AP)—The death knell may have sounded for the Mille Miglia, last of the great European open road races, as the result of Sunday's tragic toll of 13 lives lost in the 1957 renewal.

Twelve died when the powerful, 3,800 c. c. Ferrari driven by Spain's millionaire playboy sportsman, Marquis Alfonso De Portago, 28, blew a tire while roaring along at 150 miles per hour and careened into crowds lining the highway near Mantua, about 40 miles from here.

De Portago, estranged husband of the former Carol McDaniel of Greenville, S.C., and his companion, Edmund "Eddy" Nelson of Beloit, Wis., and Paris, were crushed to death.

Five Children Die

The hurtling car, veering wildly first to the left and then to the right side of the road, killed 10 spectators, five of them children. Several other onlookers were injured, some gravely.

Another accident in the 1,000-mile race from Brescia to Rome and back took the life of Josef Goettgens of The Netherlands.

His car, a Triumph, skidded on wet pavement near Florence and crashed into a road guard. Goettgens died of a fractured skull.

18 Dead In Two Years

The toll boosted to 18 the number of fatalities in the race in the last two years and newspapers immediately predicted new demands would be made in the Italian Parliament to cancel the classic.

Frogs To Jump On Steps Of Capital

NAGS HEAD, N. C. (AP)—Congressmen will get an opportunity Wednesday to see a North Carolina frog do his stuff when Atomic Baum of the Outer Banks exhibits some championship leaps on the Capitol steps.

The exhibition will be sanctioned by Rep. Herbert Bonner (D-NC) and Rep. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), whose district includes Angels Camp, site of the International Frog Jumping Jubilee.

Atomic Baum, owned by Orville Baum of Kitty Hawk, won the Dare Coast Frog Jumping Jubilee recently with three mighty hops of 11 feet.

1,000 Miles In 10 Hours

De Portago, internationally known in bobsledding as well as auto racing, was running in third place behind Piero Taruffi of Italy, the eventual winner, and Germany's Wolfgang von Tripps at the time of the accident.

Early today, Hollywood actress Linda Christian, frequently seen in the marquis' company, arrived here from Rome and went to a church at nearby Cavriana, where the bodies of De Portago and Nelson were lying in state.

Taruffi, competing for the 14th time in the road classic, made the 1,000 mile trip in 10 hours, 27 minutes and 47 seconds—an average of 94.7 m.p.h.

KILLER IN CRASH

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A Mill Hall, Pa., man was killed Saturday night when his auto overturned on U.S. 62 about nine miles south of Oklahoma City.

He was Guy Russell Weaver, 36. Two other passengers in the

SAYS WEATHER MAKES DULL ELEVATOR TALK

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP)—What do people talk about in elevators? The weather, and it gets pretty boring, says Harry Sciouti, Municipal Building elevator operator.

Nobody is original in their discourses on weather, he says. So yesterday he produced this chart of things people said in his elevator in one day and how many times it was said:

"Boy, it's hot!"—14 times.
"Pretty warm!"—11 times.
"We're sweating it out today!"—2 times.
"Good day for the beach!"—22 times.
"We sure need rain!"—13 times.
"Hottest day of the year!"—6 times.
"It's the humidity!"—5 times.
"I can hardly breathe!"—2 times.

The Nile, 960 miles in length, is the sole river in Egypt.

Back In Jail After Escape In March

WESTMORELAND, N. H. (AP)—Emil Jantli, 53, kissed his wife goodbye at the gate of Cheshire County Jail last night and walked inside.

Sheriff Frank Walker said Jantli, serving 30 days for an escape last March, broke out again last Friday by walking through a fence hole he was sent to repair.

Jantli spent two days in the woods and then went home to Winchester. After supper, his wife drove him back to the jail.

First Night Dinners, Deadlines Conflict

NEW YORK (AP)—Dinners and deadlines are again causing opening night problems on Broadway.

The league of New York Theaters recently asked press critics if they would mind an 8:30 p.m. curtain, because so many first nighters have trouble making the 8 o'clock curtain that has become traditional. The critics answered that they need that extra half hour in order to be able to see a complete show—usually about 2½ hours—and still be able to get reviews written by newspaper press time.

Photographic Highlights Of Montgomery's Weekend With President

President and Field Marshal stand on rock at Little Round Top and study the rocky slope up which the Confederates tried to storm the hill. Montgomery points out area as he recalls part of battle there.

Christine Roessteel, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roessteel, curtsies for President Eisenhower in the National Museum. With her is Pamela Eckert, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Eckert. George Roessteel, owner of the museum is in the background.

President Eisenhower uses a large map to discuss a point with his guest while touring the Battlefield Sunday morning.

LANG-FLINN

R. 2, brother of the bride; Richard A. Keefer, R. 2, and Orest Holmson-sky, York.

Both Mrs. Flinn, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Lang, mother of the groom, were street-length navy blue dresses with white accessories and pink rosebud corsage.
The Misses Mary Tauscher and Anna Eniger, both of Biglerville, R. 2, nieces of the groom, were flower girls. They wore ice blue taffeta gowns fashioned with a scalloped overskirt and lace trim. They carried baskets of mixed spring flowers. Joseph A. Flinn, R. 5, cousin of the bride, was the ring-bearer.

Leave On Honeymoon
Spring flowers formed the floral decor on the altar. The traditional wedding march, "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria" were played by the organist.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Lang left for a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. Mrs. Lang wore a two-piece pink sheath dress with white accessories. When they return the couple will reside at 832 West Princess St., York.

Mrs. Lang, who was employed before her marriage as a cashier at the W. T. Grant Co., is a graduate of Delone Catholic High School. Her husband, who received his schooling in Germany, is employed by the Medusa Cement Works, York.
Out-of-town guests from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Canada attended the wedding.

REDS ASK FOR END OF TESTS

MOSCOW (P)—The Supreme Soviet Friday called on the United States Congress and the British Parliament to work for immediate termination of nuclear weapons tests.

The Russian Parliament proposed establishment of a three-power parliamentary commission to exchange opinions and try to work out the best way to ban tests of hydrogen and atomic bombs.

As is usual, the legislators adopted the resolution without a murmur of dissent after hearing Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declare the Soviet Union would continue producing atomic and hydrogen bombs and guided missiles until the Western powers agree to discontinue their tests.

It was Gromyko's maiden speech as foreign minister in the Supreme Soviet.
"The United States and Britain would not object if the Soviet Union took the unilateral decision to stop tests," he said. "That is a little too much. That is impossible because it would jeopardize the security of the Soviet Union and increase the danger of atomic war. We want fair play."

Gromyko said it was premature to draw any conclusions about the outcome of disarmament talks in London, and that Russia was compelled to go on producing atomic weapons "because of the competition imposed by the aggressive circles of certain countries."

Vary that standard sugar-cookie recipe by adding two teaspoons of grated lemon rind and one teaspoon of lemon juice instead of vanilla or lemon extract usually called for.

Like brown gravy? Be sure to brown the flour before it is used for thickening the sauce.
